KPMG Powered Enterprise | Finance enabled by Oracle

Finance as a trusted partner

Nearly two-thirds^(a) of organisations have struggled to implement their most forward-thinking priorities – becoming a leading finance organisation will require the CFO to focus on key areas like data & analytics, intelligent automation and planning/forecasting accuracy.

Choose to enhance the value of finance

Finance leaders of the future must consider these important questions:

- How should our finance function change to increase business agility?
- How can the finance function provide higher value to the wider business?
- How can I help my people embrace the change?
- How do I get more value from my data and start to take advantage of the next generation of technology?
- How do I provide the insight and control to oversee wider innovation and transformation?

Introducing Powered Enterprise | Finance
