

KPMG Partner Announcement

Lisa Brathwaite

Partner, Audit

KPMG Barbados and the Eastern Caribbean is pleased to announce that Lisa M. Brathwaite (nee Cain) has been appointed as an Audit Partner effective October 1, 2017. Lisa is currently based in the Antigua & Barbuda office and will be responsible for leading the operations for KPMG in this location and across the wider Eastern Caribbean region. Lisa who has over 16 years' experience as an audit practitioner, has led the delivery of professional services to various domestic and international entities within Barbados and the Eastern Caribbean. Her professional experience encompasses the provision of audit, tax, and various compliance services to a variety of sectors including banking, insurance, retail, government and not-for-profit.

While attached to KPMG's Global Learning and Development team based in Toronto, Canada, Lisa was responsible for the development of training on International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRS') and International Standards on Auditing. She has since developed and delivered training seminars for clients across the region. Most recently, she has provided guidance to the banking community on the implications of the forthcoming standard, IFRS 9 Financial Instruments.

Lisa is a practising member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of The Eastern Caribbean. She is also a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Barbados and has previously served on its Accounting and Auditing Standards Committee. Lisa earned the BSc. Accounting with First Class Honors from the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus and was subsequently appointed as an Ambassador for the Social Sciences Department. Lisa, an FCCA, is a member of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants.
