

KPMG and SAP

Business and technology transformation – KPMG speaks SAP

Technology transformation can be complicated, costly, and fraught with risks. That’s why at KPMG in Canada we adopt a business-first approach to SAP technology transformation projects, starting with a clear understanding of your unique strategic imperatives driving the need for change.

Trusted for our ability to deliver enterprise-scale transformation, KPMG in Canada professionals bring a wealth of knowledge, skills, and experience to deliver a transformation solution – from the operational core of your business and across business functions, towards consistent value generation.

KPMG Powered Enterprise enabled by SAP

KPMG’s global transformation methodology, KPMG Powered Enterprise enabled by SAP, supports clients at every step, offering industry insights and best practices to establish SAP strategies and implement top-tier processes, data, and systems. This approach aims to transform key business functions such as finance, HR, procurement, sales, and supply chain, fostering sustainable change and a competitive, resilient, and modern business model. KPMG stands as a trusted advisor, working closely with clients to achieve their transformation goals.

KPMG helps make the difference

<h3>Business-led</h3> We are valued for our business-led approach to SAP system and technology transformation. We get right to the core of clients’ business, bringing specialized skills in business, process, and technology transformation to deliver best-fit SAP solutions to match specific needs, at pace and scale.	<h3>SAP technology knowledge</h3> We know how to enhance SAP technology. With a long history of achieving measurable value in our SAP solutions, our certified SAP product knowledge and extensive expertise in SAP implementations and integrations, ensure the long-term success of SAP-enabled transformation.	<h3>Collaborative approach</h3> Our approach is hands-on from the start, whether it's gaining a deep understanding of the business to establish a substantial foundation for strategy and system design, or implementing, enhancing, and embedding the best-fit KPMG services into the clients' value chain.	<h3>Preparing for the future</h3> We help position a business and its people for a future of consistent value creation. The transformation they have today may not solve future problems. So, we strive to think beyond the go-live date. In preparing a business for the future, we help guide employees through the system integration journey, to transfer knowledge and skills along the way.
