About Ghana

Location

Modern Ghana takes its name from the ancient kingdom of Ghana which was situated some 800 km. (500 miles) to the north of present-day Accra, which flourished up to the eleventh century AD. Ghana lies on Latitude 5 degrees, 36 minutes north and Longitude 0 degrees, 10 minutes east. To the west of Ghana lies Côte d'Ivoire, to the east Togo, to the north, Burkina Faso and to the south is the Gulf of Guinea. The Greenwich Meridian passes through Tema near Accra, making Ghana geographically the closest to the centre of the world, that is, the notional point of intersection between the equator and longitude zero degree (0 degree) which is in the Atlantic Ocean at about 614km from Accra.

Climate

The climate is mainly tropical. There are two main seasons: the wet and the dry seasons. Northern Ghana experiences its rainy season from June to September while the south, including the capital Accra, experiences that season from April to mid-November. The annual rainfall is as high as 2,000 mm in the southwestern part of the country but decreases towards the northeast, dropping to 1,000 mm at the northern border area.

Ghana's climate is tropical and strongly influenced by the West Africa monsoon winds. The annual mean temperature ranges from 25°C to 27°C and is constant throughout the year.

Vegetation

Ghana has tropical vegetation of dense tropical rain forest in the southern middle belt. In Ghana, there are six agro-ecological zones in Ghana: Sudan Savannah, Guinea Savannah, Coastal Savannah, Forest/Savannah transitional zone, Deciduous Forest zone and the Rain Forest zone. The vegetation cover is evergreen forest with semi-deciduous forest at the northern and southern fringes. Towards the north is savannah grassland and towards the coast is the coastal savannah. There are a few mountains and several hills rising to a height of 750 meters and above including Mount Afadjato, Mount Edouka, Mount Atiwiredu, Mount Kwamisa, Atwea Mountains and many more. The Afadjato mountain located in the Volta Region of Ghana, is the highest mountain and lies 1,500 meters above sea level.

Drainage

The country is drained by many streams and rivers. The Volta River and its tributaries drain more than two-thirds of water bodies in the country. All the major rivers in the country flow into the Gulf of Guinea directly or as tributaries to other major rivers. The Akosombo and Bui Dams, both built on the Volta River, provides hydroelectricity for Ghana.

The Volta Lake formed after damming the river is navigable for about 400 km and motorised vessels now ply its waters carrying passengers and goods from the south of the country to the north and vice versa. There are several rivers in the country and the most important is the Volta dammed at Akosombo, Akuse and Bui (situated on the Black Volta) - for hydro-electric power generation plants.

Other rivers are the Pra, Ankobra and Tano. Among the smaller rivers are the Densu and Ayensu which provide Winneba and parts of the capital, Accra, with pipe-borne water. The largest natural lake in the country is Bosomtwi with a total area of 48 square kilometres and reaches depths of 72 meters in some parts.

Population

As at December 2021, the population of Ghana was estimated to be 30,832,019 people. This is an increase of 1.1 % (335,512 people) compared to population of 30,496,507 the year before. Four regions (Greater Accra, 17.7%, Ashanti, 17.6%, Eastern, 9.5% and Central, 9.3%) contain more than half (54%) of the population.

In 2021 the natural increase was positive, as the number of births recorded for the year amounted to 772,617 as against 132,199 deaths recorded for the period preceding the census night. The sex ratio of the total population was 1.028 (102.8 females per 100 males) which is higher than global sex ratio. The global sex ratio in the world was approximately 100 females to 101 males as of 2021.

Below are the key figures for Ghana population in 2021:

Ethnic Groups

Ghana is home to more than 100 different ethnic groups. The official language is English; however, most Ghanaians also speak at least one local language.

The ethnic groups in Ghana are the Akan (the Fante, Akyem, Ashanti, Kwahu, Akuapem, Nzema, Bono, Akwamu, Ahanta and others) 47.3 %; Mole-Dagbani 16.6%; Ewe 13.9 %; Ga-Dangme (Ga, Dangme) 7.4%; Guan 3.7%; Gurma 3.7%; Grusi 2.5%; Mande 1.1%; other tribes 1.4%; other (Hausa, Zabarema, Fulani) 0.4% (2010 census).

The religious distribution of the country is as follows: Christianity 71.2% (Pentecostal/Charismatic 28.3%, Protestant 18.4%, Catholic 13.1%, other 11.4%), Islam 17.6%, Traditionalist 5.2%, and no affiliation 5.3%, none 0.7% (2010 census).

Education

Most Ghanaians have relatively easy access to primary and secondary education. The introduction of Free secondary in September 2017 led to a significant increase intake of the number of students to senior high schools across the country. A total of 425,061 first-year students enrolled under the Free SHS programme in 2021, bringing the total enrolment to 1,261,461 students. Government also completed 118 projects in various SHS, continued the construction of nine (9) Model SHS. Again, the construction of 20 STEM centres across the country commenced and a total of 924 Mathematics and Science teachers under the STEM education were trained

Under the educational reforms implemented in 1987, the basic education system of Ghana comprises a six-year primary education system which usually begins at the age of six and a three-year junior high school education system. At the end of the third year of the junior high school, students sit for the Basic Education Certificate Examination (BECE) organised by the West African Examinations Council (WAEC). Thereafter, there is a continuation of a three-year senior high school for successful student. Those continuing must complete the three-year senior high school (SHS) or technical/vocational programme by sitting the relevant qualification examinations. Successful students can continue to the tertiary institutions, either to the universities, polytechnics, nursing training colleges, the teacher colleges of education or any other training colleges.

Government

The system of government practised in Ghana is Parliamentary democracy with separation of powers among the Executive, the Legislature and the Judiciary guaranteed under the 1992 Constitution. The press enjoys a great deal of freedom which has been nurtured into one of the most vibrant in Africa.

The 1992 Constitution provides checks and balances which limit the powers of each of the arms of government.

The Constitution also provides for a Council of State, made up of experienced elders with proven character, to advise the President on national issues. The Constitution has also established several autonomous institutions such as the Commission for Human Rights and Administrative Justice (CHRAJ), the Electoral Commission (EC) and Economic and Organised Crime Office (EOCO). These institutions are there to facilitate good governance and transparency. The Government is elected by universal adult suffrage. There have been six democratically elected presidents and parliaments since 1992.

Judiciary

The legal system is based on the English common law and customary laws of Ghana. The court system is made up of the Supreme Court of Ghana, Court of Appeal and the High Court of Justice which constitute the superior courts. Below these are the Magistrate, Circuit and District Courts, and family tribunals which constitute the lower courts. The traditional rulers also settle disputes among their subjects, but such decisions do not constitute judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The 1992 Constitution which is the basic law of the land guarantees an independent judiciary.

Membership with other organisations

Ghana is a member of many international organisations including the United Nations (UN), International Monetary Fund (IMF), World Trade Organisation (WTO), South Atlantic Peace Cooperation Zone, the Commonwealth of Nations, the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), the African Union (AU), the African Continental Free Trade Area, the United Nations, the Non-Aligned Movement, and an Associate Member of La Francophone. Ghana is an observer to the organisation of American States and has a strong record of contributing troops to international peace keeping forces.

Economy

Ghana is the third largest U.S. export market for goods in Sub Saharan Africa. Beyond its traditional industries of agriculture, mining - and more recently, oil and gas production, Ghana's digital, financial services, education, and franchising sectors are growing fast.

Provisional 2021 end-year national accounts statistics released by the Ghana Statistical Service (GSS) in April 2022 showed that, overall Real GDP for 2021 expanded by 5.4 percent year-on-year compared to 0.5 percent recorded in 2020 and a revised annual target of 5.1 percent. Non-oil GDP growth also increased to 6.9 percent year-on-year compared to a growth of 1.0 percent recorded in 2020, and a revised target of 7.0 percent.

According to the 2021 Annual Budget performance, Annual growth in private sector credit increased to 11.1 percent in December 2021 from 10.6 percent in the same period in 2020, reflecting gradual rebound in economic activities and the impact of regulatory measures implemented by the Bank of Ghana. In real terms, private sector credit, however, contracted by 1.3 percent in December 2021 compared to a marginal growth of 0.2 percent over the same comparative period in 2020.

Despite the economic slowdown brought on by the pandemic, Ghana still managed to sustain a growth rate of 0.5 percent in 2020 and it bounced back with a growth of 5.4 percent in 2021.

- High degree of personal safety and
- Warm and friendly people

Starting a Business in Ghana- Process, Time and Cost

Domestic Laws

Laws governing the establishment of business in Ghana are provided in the following legislations:

- Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992),

- The Incorporated Private Partnership Act, 1962 (Act 152)
- The Business Name Act, 1962 (Act 151)

The investor, whether Ghanaian or a foreigner, who desires to establish a resident business entity has to register with the Registrar of Companies. This registration may be done under one of the laws mentioned above, except where the entity is to operate in the Country as a representative of a non-resident business entity. Non-resident business entities do not go through the process of incorporation under Act 992, but simply submits the required documents to the Registrar of Companies for registration as an external company.

Investment Legislation

The legal framework for investment in Ghana is regulated by different agencies in the country.

These are:

- Registrar of Companies
- Ghana Investment Promotion Centre (GIPC)
- Ghana Immigration Service (GIS)
- Ghana Revenue Authority (GRA)
- Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)
- Ghana Free Zones Board
- Petroleum Commission
- Minerals Commission.

Investment Procedures

The first step for an investor wishing to invest in Ghana is to register with the Registrar of Companies. The department charges a nominal administrative fee, plus capital duty of 1% of the company's stated capital. The official processing time varies between one to two weeks, after which the company will receive the certificate of incorporation.

After incorporation, companies that are partly or fully owned by foreigners have to register with the GIPC. Registration is completed after companies have met the minimum equity requirements depending on their structure as shown below.

The required equity can be brought into Ghana either in money or in kind (goods, plant and machinery, vehicles or other tangible assets). Money can be brought in cash, subject to some prescribed maximum limit existing at the time or transferred into the account of the incorporated company at a Ghanaian commercial bank. The bank must confirm the transfer to the Bank of Ghana, which subsequently informs the GIPC. Equity in kind should be generally supported by relevant documents such as bills of lading, invoices and others and are generally confirmed by the Customs Division of Ghana Revenue Authority prior to being presented to the Ghana Investment Promotion Centre.

Registrar of Companies

The Registrar General's Department is the organisation responsible for the registration of companies, societies and institutions in Ghana. The institute is a department under the Office of the Attorney General and Ministry of Justice. The department issues certificates of incorporation to newly formed entities.

Ghana Immigration Service

The Ghana Immigration Service is the governmental institution that regulates the entry, residence, employment and exits of foreign nationals in Ghana. The institution also maintains the presence and movements of foreigners through the issuance of work and/or residence permits. It also handles similar issues such as re-entry visas, extension of visitors' permits and visa on arrival to visitors in Ghana where there is no Ghanaian Embassy or consulate abroad.

Ghana Revenue Authority (GRA)

The Ghana Revenue Authority is the Government agency responsible for administering all the tax laws in Ghana. Hitherto, revenue collection in the Country was done under the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Value Added Tax Service (VATS) and the Customs Excise and Preventive Service (CEPS). These agencies operated as autonomous bodies with a Revenue Agency Governing Board playing monitoring and supervisory roles. Currently, all the above agencies have been merged into one body called the Ghana Revenue Authority (GRA). The Ghana Revenue Authority is made up of two main divisions, namely, Domestic Tax Revenue Division (DTRD), Customs Division (CD), with assistance from the Support Services Division (SSD) and now, the Commissioner General's Secretariat.

The Customs Division is a paramilitary division of the GRA that is also responsible for collecting customs and excise duties at all points of entry and exit including harbours, airports, land borders and parcel posts as well as other inland offices. The Domestic Tax Revenue Division on another hand is responsible for the administration and collection of domestic direct and indirect taxes. DTRD collects taxes which include Income Tax, Value Added Tax, and Ghana Education Trust Fund & National Health Insurance levies, just to mention a few. The Support Services Division is responsible for all internal functions such as finance and administration, legal, human resource, etc. of the Authority. Each of these three divisions is headed by a Commissioner who reports to the Commissioner- General.

Any investor in Ghana will have to register with the GRA at any of its service centres to pay for the applicable taxes.

For more information, please see attached Appendix A (Registration of Business)

Ghana Investment Promotion Centre (GIPC)

The Ghana Investment Promotion Centre was set up to initiate, maintain and promote a favourable environment for both Ghanaian and foreign investments in Ghana. The GIPC was established under the GIPC Act, 2013 (Act 865) as the government agency responsible for overseeing investments in all sectors of the economy except mining, petroleum, free zones and portfolio investments.

Investments in the mining and petroleum sectors are licensed by the Minerals Commission and the Petroleum Commission respectively, while that for Export Processing and portfolio investments are administered by the Ghana Free Zones Board and Ghana Stock Exchange.

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)

The Environmental Protection Agency is the body responsible for issuing environmental permits to companies operating in various fields. The investor will often be required to submit an environmental impact assessment report to obtain an environmental permit.

Ghana Free Zones Authority

The Ghana Investment Promotion Centre keeps track of all investments in the Country while the Ghana Free Zones Board regulates enterprises that operate within the Free Zone enclaves. These enterprises are required to export at least 70 percent of their products and should be registered as a free zone enterprise by publication in the Commercial and Industrial Bulletin.

Any investor who will be producing to export at least 70 percent of its total output can take advantage of the Free Zones Act and locate their businesses within the Free Zone Enclaves at Tema, Sekondi, Shama and Boankra. Registration as an entity operating in the Free Zone Enclave generally happens after going through the business registration processes and having the relevant applications to be a free zone enterprise approved by the Free Zones Board.

Some of the privileges available to Free Zone Enterprises are the exemption from tax on imports into the Free Zone as well as exemptions from duty and other taxes on exports to foreign countries. Free Zone Enterprises are exempt from corporate income tax for a period of ten (10) years, and thereafter, the corporate tax shall be 15 percent and 25 percent on income from sales to foreign markets (export) and the local market respectively and exemption from payment of withholding taxes from dividends.

Depending on the industry or sector, additional registration may be necessary with other regulatory bodies such as:

Petroleum Commission

The commission was established under the Petroleum Commission Act, 2011 (Act 821), to regulate and manage the utilisation of upstream petroleum resources and to co-ordinate policies in relation to them.

The Petroleum Commission has the following responsibilities, among others:

- Recommending to the Minister responsible for petroleum national policies relating to petroleum activities
- Monitoring petroleum activities and carrying out relevant inspections and audits related to such activities
- Receiving applications and issuing permits for specific petroleum activities as required under relevant petroleum laws and regulations
- Promoting local content and local participation in petroleum activities as prescribed in the Legislative Instrument (L.I 2204) and other applicable laws and regulations to strengthen national development, etc.

Ghana National Petroleum Corporation (GNPC)

The Ghana National Petroleum Corporation was established by the Ghana National Petroleum Corporation Act, 1983 (PNDCL 64).

Mandate

GNPC was established as a state-owned entity and given legal backing "to undertake the exploration, development, production and disposal of petroleum". The PNDCL 84 establishes the legal framework governing the contractual relationship between the state, GNPC and prospective investors in upstream petroleum operations.

The Corporation was established with the following objects:

- To accelerate the promotion of petroleum exploration activities to ensure early commercial discovery and production

- To undertake the appraisal of existing petroleum discoveries to ensure production to meet national requirements
- To ensure that Ghana obtains the greatest possible benefits from the development of its petroleum resources
- To obtain the effective transfer to Ghana of appropriate technology relating to petroleum operations
- To ensure the training of citizens of Ghana and the development of national capabilities in all aspects of petroleum operations, and
- To ensure that petroleum operations are conducted in such a manner as to prevent adverse effects on the environment, resources and people of Ghana.

Downstream activities include importation and refining of crude oil, sale, marketing and distribution of refined petroleum products in the country, exportation, re-exportation, shipment, transportation, processing, refining, storage, distribution, marketing and sale of petroleum products.

With the establishment of the Petroleum Commission, GNPC ceased to exercise the advisory functions relating to the regulation, management and utilisation of petroleum resources and the coordination of policy in relation to that function.

Minerals Commission

This is a Government agency established under Article 269 of the 1992 Constitution and the Minerals Commission Act, 1993 (Act 450) as the main promotional and regulatory body for the minerals sector. The Commission is responsible for developing and coordinating mineral sector policies and monitoring their implementation. It also has responsibility for ensuring compliance with the various minerals and mining laws.

Investors seeking to invest in the minerals sector have to register with the Minerals Commission after completing the necessary registration or incorporation requirements at the office of the Registrar of Companies.

National Petroleum Authority

The National Petroleum Authority is responsible for regulating the downstream petroleum industry in Ghana. As a Regulator, the Authority ensures that the industry remains efficient, profitable, fair, and at the same time, ensuring that consumers receive value for money.

Its responsibilities include issuing licenses to Petroleum Services Providers (PSPs), monitoring of the operations of PSPs and inspecting facilities of PSPs in the downstream industry.

The NPA also ensures the quality design, construction and operation of all petroleum infrastructure and that consumers receive high quality fuel that is safe, efficient and value for money.

Other responsibilities include ensuring adequate maintenance of petroleum and fair pricing of products.

For more information on the NPA and licensing fees visit their website at www.npa.gov.gh/

Expatriates

Foreign investors are given automatic immigrant quotas depending on the level of equity capital invested in the business in Ghana.

However, there are opportunities to apply for increases in automatic quota depending on the circumstances and needs of the business. After registration with the GIPC, companies can apply for immigrant quotas.

The table below shows the automatic expatriate quota obtainable based on the amount of capital contributed by the foreigner to the business in Ghana:

Paid Up Capital and Related Quota of Expatriate Staff
Paid Up Capital Required (US$)	Quota of Expatriate Staff
50,000 - 250,000	1
250,000 - 500,000	2
500,000 - 700,000	3
700,000+	4

Investment Incentives and Guarantees

Investment incentives are used by the Government to attract investors to sectors of the economy that require stimulation for growth. Some geographical areas of the Country are also targeted for investments to generate employment. Such incentives are found in various legislations such as the GIPC Act, Free Zones Act, and the Petroleum and Mining Laws. Investment incentives can also be found in the main revenue/tax laws.

The GIPC Act protects the businesses of investors from nationalisation or appropriation by any Government. Where such a step must be taken, it can only be done by law and should be in the national interest. In such a case, adequate compensation will be paid. No individual can also be compelled to cede his interest in any investment to any other person.

Transfer of profits, interests or dividends accruing from these investments are also guaranteed by the GIPC Act.

Tax System

Ghana Revenue Authority

The main tax types that investors will encounter in Ghana include Corporate Tax, Withholding Tax, Value Added Tax, National Health Insurance Levy, Ghana Education Trust Fund Levy, Employment Tax, Dividend Tax, Customs and Excise Duties and Communication Service Tax. There are other taxes which may become applicable due to some peculiar circumstances.

Corporate Tax

The general corporate income tax rate is twenty-five percent (25%). Companies in the mining and petroleum sectors have a corporate tax rate of thirty-five percent (35%). Also, entities in their temporary concessionary period as specified under Income Tax Act, 2015 (Act 896) are subject to corporate income tax at a rate of one percent. This does not include entities within the Free Zone enclaves who are exempt from tax during their concessionary period up to 10 years but become subjected to corporate income tax of fifteen percent (15%) on its exports after the concessionary period and at twenty-five percent (25%) for sales made to the local market. The entities in the hospitality industry on the other hand pay corporate income tax at a rate of twenty-two percent (22%).

Act 896 also provides tax incentives depending on the sector and location in which an entity operates and may be liable to pay tax at rates different from the general corporate tax rate.

Withholding tax

All companies are generally obliged to withhold tax from payments made to persons for the supply of goods, works or services. The withholding tax does not apply in cases where the value of the contract does not exceed GHS2,000 per annum for a year of assessment.

The withholding tax rates vary from three percent (3%) to twenty percent (20%) depending on the type of transaction and, whether the person is a resident or a non-resident person.

Where a Double Taxation Agreement (DTA) exist between the contracting countries, the DTA rate will be applicable and may provide a lower withholding tax rate.

Value Added Tax (VAT) /National Health Insurance Levy (NHIL), Ghana Education Trust Fund Levy (GETFL) & Covid-19 Health Recovery Levy (CHRL)

The VAT rate of 15%, NHIL and GETFL rate of 5% and CHRL rate of 1% are chargeable on the supply of goods and services made in Ghana, the importation of goods into Ghana and the supply of imported services. A person is required to register and charge VAT when the annual turnover exceeds GHS200,000. There is also a 3% Flat Rate Scheme which is charged by retailers when their turnover is more than GHS200,000 per annum but less than GHS500,000 per annum.

Persons dealing in taxable supplies must register with the Domestic Tax Revenue Division of the Ghana Revenue Authority in order to charge the tax. Registered taxable persons are obliged to file a tax return and pay VAT, NHIL, GETFL and CHRL every month.

Goods and services exempted from VAT, NHIL, GETFL and CHRL include:

- Food produced in Ghana and sold in its raw state
- Petrol, diesel and kerosene
- Equipment for agriculture and fishing
- Housing/Dwelling (domestic ownership and rental). However, houses sold by real estate companies, and rental of properties for commercial purposes are taxable
- Domestic transportation of passengers by road, rail and water.

Customs Duty

Agricultural and industrial plant, machinery and equipment imported for investment purposes are exempted from customs import duty. All import duty- exempted goods, however, attract processing and/or other related fees or levies ranging between 0.5% and 2.0%, except for goods imported specifically for the educational, health and agricultural sectors.

Commercial buses with seating capacity of above thirty passengers, workshop vans, breakdown vehicles, mobile showrooms, ambulances, hearse and motor bikes are also exempted from the payment of import duty.

However, certain types of vehicles attract both import duty and Value Added Tax (VAT), National Health & Insurance Levy (NHIL), Ghana Education Trust Fund Levy (GETFL) and Covid 19 Health Recovery Levy (CHRL). Import duties range between 0% and 20%.

Domestic Tax

Taxation of Individuals

Resident individuals pay tax on their income at graduated rates with thirty percent (30%) being the highest marginal rate.

Sole Proprietorships and partners of partnerships also pay tax at the graduated rates up to an upper limit of thirty percent (30%).

Individuals enjoy tax reliefs such as marriage or responsibility relief, child education relief, old age relief, aged dependent relief, training and development relief, and disabled relief. Individuals who have life insurance policies get reliefs for the premiums paid for the policies. Those who pay the mandatory and voluntary pension contributions (Tiers 1, 2 and 3) get reliefs for amounts contributed. Employers also get relief for additional contributions they make on behalf of their employees. The total amount of pension contribution to be allowed tax deductibility should not exceed thirty-five percent of the individual's base pay.

An individual is considered resident in Ghana where she/he is present in Ghana for at least 183 days in any 12 month period that commences or ends during the year of assessment.

The income tax rate for a non-resident individual is 25% flat on the income accrued or derived in Ghana.

Corporate Tax

Resident companies in Ghana generally pay corporate tax at 25% on their taxable profits. By the Income Tax Act, 2015 (Act 896), a company is considered a resident company in Ghana for a year of assessment if it is either incorporated under the laws of Ghana or has its management and/ or control exercised in Ghana at any time during the year of assessment.

The table below shows the tax rates applicable to various industries in Ghana. After tax holidays, agro processing enterprises and manufacturers of cocoa by-products attract different corporate tax rates depending on their location as shown below.

Corporate Tax Rates
General	25%
Hotels	22%
Non-traditional exports, Rural Banks	8%
Free zones enterprise after tax holiday
• Sales Outside Domestic Market	15%
• Sales to the domestic Market	25%
Income of financial institutions from loans granted for farming and leasing enterprises	20%
Petroleum Operations	35%
Mining Operations	35%

Tax Incentives

Temporary Concessions

Companies operating in certain sectors of the economy enjoy tax concessionary rate of 1% on their chargeable income as shown below

Temporary Concession
Certified companies that construct low-cost residential premises for sale or letting	First five years of operation
Enterprises that pre-finance Real estate	First ten years of operation

Location Incentives

Companies operating in the manufacturing sector are entitled to tax rebates, depending on their location within the country.

The income tax rebate allowable to manufacturing business operating in regional capitals other than Accra and Tema is 25% of the applicable income tax rate, while those in other locations other than Accra and Tema enjoy 50% of the applicable tax rate.

Capital Allowances

Capital allowances are granted on depreciable assets owned and used in the production of income by a person during a year of assessment. The asset pooling system is used in the computation of capital allowance. Based on this system, the assets are grouped into five classes of depreciable assets. Each class of assets has its own depreciation rate. Classes one, two and three assets are depreciated on a reducing balance basis. Classes four and five are depreciated on straight line basis.

The applicable capital allowance rates are as follows:

Capital Allowances

Class	Qualifying Assets	Depreciation Rate
1	Computers and data handling equipment together with peripheral devices	40%
2	Motor vehicles, construction & earth-moving equipment, heavy general purpose or specialised trucks, trailers and trailer-mounted containers, manufacturing plant and equipment, capital expenditure on long term crop planting	30%
3	Railroad cars, locomotives and equipment; water transportation vessels and equipment; aircraft; specialised public utility plant and machinery; office furniture fixtures and equipment and any other depreciable asset not included in another class.	20%
4	Building structures and similar works of a permanent nature.	20% on straight line basis
5	Intangible assets	1 divided by the useful life of the asset in the pool

Unrelieved Losses from Business or Investment

Specified priority sectors (made up of Minerals and Mining operations, Petroleum operations; Energy and Power business, Manufacturing business, Farming business, Agro-processing business, Tourism business and Information and Communication Technology business) can utilise unrelieved losses for any of the previous five years of assessment. All other sectors can utilise unrelieved losses for any of the previous three years of assessment.

Also, unrelieved losses made on the completion of a long-term contracts can be carried back to set-off against profits reported in prior years.

Insurance Against Non-Commercial Risks

Ghana is a signatory to the World Bank's Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA) Convention. This Convention guarantees coverage (insurance) against non-commercial risks such as transfer restrictions, breach of contract, expropriation, war and civil disobedience.

International Agreements

These international agreements are signed to promote business transactions between Ghana and the other parties to the agreements.

Double Taxation Agreements

Ghana has signed Double Taxation Agreements (DTAs) with some countries to facilitate cross-border trade and investment and to create an enabling environment for foreign direct investment in Ghana and the respective countries. Currently, it has signed such agreements with France, the United Kingdom (UK), Belgium, Italy, Germany, South Africa, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Czech Republic, Singapore, Morocco and Mauritius. DTAs with Ireland, Malta and Norway are yet to be implemented.

Investment Promotion and Protection Agreements

Ghana has signed Bilateral Investment Protection Treaties with twenty-one countries. Currently, countries with whom the agreements have been signed and ratified are UK and Northern Ireland, China, the Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, the Swiss Confederation, Burkina Faso and Malaysia. The countries with whom agreements have been signed but awaiting ratification are La Cote d'Ivoire, Egypt, The United States of America (US), France, Zambia, Cuba, Yugoslavia, Mauritania, Guinea, South Africa, Mauritius, Romania, and Bulgaria. Countries with agreements pending are South Korea, Canada, Pakistan, Ethiopia, Israel, Turkey, Jamaica, Nigeria, Belgium, Indonesia, Philippines, The Czech Republic, Australia, Singapore, Morocco, Togo, Finland and Spain.

African Growth Opportunities Act (AGOA)

Ghana was designated as a beneficiary of AGOA in 2000 and has renewed its membership for a 10-year period (2015 to 2025) by the U.S. Congress. Ghana seeks to double its non-traditional export earnings to $5 billion per year, having recorded total exports to the United States of $719m as of 2020. Ghana's AGOA Strategy aims to enable the country to make maximum use of opportunities under AGOA, with an emphasis on intensifying export development and diversification. This is a key initiative of the Government of Ghana's 10-point Integrated Industrial Transformation Agenda.

Ghanaian industries with the greatest potential to benefit from AGOA include clothing and textiles, fisheries, horticulture, tropical fruits, specialty vegetables, root crops, vegetable fats (palm oil and shea butter), cocoa, handicrafts, and jewellery. Ghana's main export to the USA consist of forest products, agricultural products, energy-related products, minerals and metals, textiles and apparels, chemicals and related products, footwear, machinery, transportation equipment, manufactured goods and electrical products.

Free Zones Export

In line with government's vision to boost economic growth through the private sector, it set up the Free Zones Programme in 1996 to promote processing and manufacturing of goods through the establishment of Export Processing Zones (EPZs).

Two export processing zones (one in Tema near Accra and the other in Sekondi near Takoradi, the capital of the Western Region) have been established by the government of Ghana. Two other ones, one in Boankra in the Ashanti Region and the other in Shama in the Western Region is being developed. A Free Zone company can be located either in any of the Export Processing Zones (EPZ) or anywhere in Ghana upon the approval of the Ghana Free Zones Authority (GFZA). In essence, the whole of Ghana is accessible to potential investors who have the opportunity to use the Free Zones as focal points to produce goods and services for foreign markets. The Ghana Free Zones Authority (GFZA) was established under the Free Zone Act, 1995 (Act 504) to promote, facilitate, monitor and regulate investments under the programme.

Every company can apply for a status of a single free zone company, provided it sells up to 30% of its products to the local market and exports no less than 70% of its products.

Incentives. Companies in the Free Zone are totally exempted from payment of duties and levies on all imports for production and exports from free zones.

There is also an exemption from corporate income tax for the first ten years of operation and thereafter income tax rate is either 15% or 25% for sales made outside the domestic market and within domestic market respectively.

Furthermore, they are not required to obtain import licenses, are totally exempted from payment of withholding taxes on dividends and are relieved from double taxation for foreign investors.

Import and Export Rules

Exports Procedures and requirements for exporting goods from Ghana depend on the kind of goods exported. Exports are categorised into traditional and non-traditional exports. Traditional exports include cocoa, timber, gold, minerals and electricity. Non-traditional exports include agricultural products, fish, aluminium products and textiles. Exporters are required to register their companies with the Registrar of Companies and Ghana Investment Promotion Centre (GIPC).

Exporters are also obliged to complete foreign exchange forms issued by the Bank of Ghana through the Commercial Banks and Customs Entry forms and certificates of origin from the Customs Division of the Ghana Revenue Authority. Permits or certificates must also be obtained from relevant institutions like the Ghana Standards Board.

Prohibited exports include narcotics, parrots and Ghanaian currency in excess of GHS5,000. There are also restrictions on the export of antiques, precious minerals and live plants. Permits to export these must be obtained from the relevant regulatory agencies such as the Museums and Monuments Boards, Precious Minerals Marketing Corporations and Ministry of Agriculture respectively.

General documents required for exports include:

- Original Bill of Lading/Airway Bill
- Attested Invoice (Customs # C.61)
- Packing List
- Import Declaration and Valuation Report (FCVR)
- Tax Clearance Certificate (Domestic Tax Division of Ghana Revenue Authority)
- Taxpayers Identification Number (TIN)
- Permits and Licenses from Relevant Institutions

Imports

In Ghana, all imported goods attract an import duty and VAT, NHIL & GETFL and CHRL (See Domestic Tax System for details).

Goods such as aircraft beyond a certain weight & aircraft parts, advertising materials, machines or plant for agricultural purpose are exempted from import duty.

Prohibited imports are narcotics, animals and dangerous weapons. These are only allowed if the relevant competent Ghanaian Authorities have issued the necessary permits or certificates. For drugs, permit must be obtained from the Ministry of Health; for animals, the Ministry of Food and Agriculture and for weapons, the Ministry of Interior.

Additional fees and levies paid on imported goods include an inspection fee of 0.5% of the value of the imported goods, a 1% ECOWAS levy and a 0.5% fee payable to the Ghanaian Export Development and Investment Fund (EDIF).

Duty Drawback

This gives a person the opportunity to receive a refund on import duties paid on goods imported into the country. Some conditions under which refunds may be given include where goods have been returned to the supplier, goods have been abandoned or destroyed in accordance with laid down procedures, the charge was erroneously or excessively assessed or collected and many more. The drawback process commences when goods have been duly re-exported, destroyed, etc and a Ghana Customs export document endorsed by the Customs authorities in both the exporting and importing countries or a "landing certificate" from the importing country (where required) is produced. An application form must be accompanied with the following documents:

- Certified copies of the import documents
- Import duty payment receipts (certified copies)
- Drawback Debenture Form (Form C3)
- Statement of Composition Form (Form C2A) in case of Material drawback.

There is a twelve-month time frame beginning from the date of the first export within which the duty drawback can be claimed. It is advised that claims are put in quarterly. The Government of Ghana has established an escrow account with the Bank of Ghana into which monies are paid for the purpose of satisfying the duty drawback needs of exporters.

Temporary Importation of Goods

Certain goods imported into Ghana can be conditionally relieved from the payment of import duties. Such goods must be imported for a specific purpose and must be intended for re-exportation within ninety-one days, either in the state in which they were imported or after having undergone specific processing or repair. Conditions to be met for the tax relief on temporary importation of goods include:

- Goods must be declared at importation that they are imported only temporarily and will be subsequently re-exported
- A Form C59 must be filled
- A cash deposit or a bond to cover the potential duty and tax liabilities (if any) must be given
- Goods must be exported within three months or such further period as the Customs Officer may allow
- Goods must not be disposed of in the country without prior permission of the Commissioner - General.

Ghana Tax Data Cards

Tax data cards

Preamble

The KPMG Tax Data Card provides a brief insight into Direct and Indirect Tax Acts that are in force including subsequent amendments to the Act. The Tax Data Card is updated periodically when there are amendment during the year. The last time this document was amended was March 2023

It is important to note that, most of the taxes initiated in the 2023 Budget Statement have been passed into law. However, there are some of the proposed revenue mobilisation measures that are yet to be passed into law. Below are a list of these proposed measures:

- Introduction of an additional PAYE tax band with a tax rate of 35%
- Review of the upper limits for Benefit in kind (vehicle element) for PAYE purposes
- Introduction of a withholding tax regime for gains on realisation of assets and liabilities
- Review the 15% optional tax rate for individuals on the realisation of assets
- Increase the existing 1% Temporary income tax concessions to 5%
- Implement a minimum chargeable income system on Companies
- Convert the National Fiscal Stabilisation Levy (NFSL) into a Growth and Sustainability Levy (GSL) to cover all other sectors

- Unifying the period of Carry-Over of Tax Loss to streamline the administration of the provisions in the Income Tax Act 896
- Limiting the deductibility of foreign exchange losses to only realised losses and restricting exchange losses on capital assets to be capitalised other than deducted in the year in which they are incurred.
- Reforms to taxation of the Gaming industry by introducing a Tax on Gross Gaming Revenue to replace Corporate Income Tax and VAT.
- Withholding tax on gaming winnings.
- Waiver of tax on withdrawals from 3rd Tier Provident Funds and personal pension schemes
- Review of the Vehicle Income Tax (VIT) Sticker and Income Tax Stamp rates in 2023
- Re-introduction of road tolls on selected highways in the country using technology in the administration
