

Regulatory & contractual compliance monitoring

Rapidly review massive volumes of documents, accurately from various internal, or external sources

Opportunity

New industry standard regulations require companies to continually monitor regulatory and contextual compliance. Manual handling is time-consuming, prone to error and is simply inefficient.

Key Benefits

- Automated intelligent regulatory review engine that can quickly and accurately digitize, index, and process regulations & contracts
- Flexible and modular solution with integration and connectivity options
- Continuous monitoring and refinement based on machine accuracy versus subject matter expert sampling
- Enable the organization to devote scarce and expensive legal resources to the most critical documents, while relying on machine assessment for documents where confidence is higher.

Solution Description

The monitoring tool leverages natural language processing (NLP) and machine learning (ML) to compare document attributes and highlight the differences, in order to assess compliance with the regulation in question.

The engine reads documents quickly and accurately, evaluates compliance status.
