CORPORATE INCOME TAX

Taxable profit of Lithuanian and foreign corporate taxpayers is subject to a standard (flat) rate of 15%. A reduced 5% rate applies to cooperatives engaged in agricultural activities and small companies (newly established small companies are subject to a 0% tax rate for the first taxable period). A reduced 10% rate applies to agricultural companies during the transitional period of 2018 and will be increased to a standard rate of 15% from 2019 onwards. Lithuanian entities are taxed on worldwide income; the tax liability of foreign entities is limited to income sourced in Lithuania, including income earned through permanent establishments.

Taxable profits are arrived at deducting exempt income, allowable and partly allowable expenses from taxable income.

Tax-exempt income

Tax-exempt income includes received penalties and fines, revaluation of fixed assets and liabilities (except for derivative financial instruments), insurance compensations, income from collective investment undertakings (except for income from tax havens) etc.

Dividends received from European Economic Area (EEA) companies (subject to corporate income tax or equivalent tax) are tax-exempt. Dividends received from other foreign companies (subject to corporate income tax or equivalent tax) are tax-exempt if they qualify for participation exemption (not less than 10% of the voting shares are held continuously for at least 12 months), except for dividends received from tax havens. The aforementioned exemptions for inbound dividends may not apply where the main purpose or one of the main purposes of an arrangement or a series of arrangements is obtaining a tax advantage.

Allowable and partly allowable deductions

Deductions allowed are all expenses actually incurred in the ordinary course of business that are necessary for earning income or in order to receive economic benefit.

Partly allowable expenses include: depreciation and amortisation of fixed assets, business trips, advertising and entertainment, ordinary loss of inventories, taxes, bad debts, payments for the benefit of employees, granted support, membership fees, etc.

The main types of non-deductible expenses are: penalties and default interest, compensation for damages, payments to tax haven entities (if not verified that this relates to the ordinary activities of tax haven entities), other payments not related to the ordinary business of a taxpayer, etc.

Capital gains

Capital gains are non-taxable if they are derived from the transfer of shares of an entity that is registered in Lithuania or another EEA country, or in a country with which Lithuania has a double tax treaty and is subject to corporate income tax or equivalent tax (participation requirement: more than 10% of shares held continuously for at least 2 years). If the transfer of shares takes place in the course of reorganisation, the minimum holding period is 3 years.

Tax losses

Ordinary tax losses can be carried forward indefinitely if a taxpayer continues to perform business activities from which such losses have occurred. Ordinary tax losses carried forward can only be set off against up to 70% of the calculated taxable profits of the taxable period. Capital losses from the disposal of securities or financial derivatives can be carried forward for 5 years and exclusively to set off gains from the disposal of securities or financial derivatives.

Grouping

Tax loss of a company incurred for the taxable period may be set off against the respective profit of another company forming a group provided the following criteria are met: the parent company directly or indirectly owns at least two-thirds of shares in the subsidiaries; and the transfer of loss is performed between companies that have continuously been members of the group for at least 2 years, or if the participants of the transfer have been a part of the group as of their incorporation and will be part of the group for at least 2 years. Grouping with a foreign loss is possible where the foreign entity transferring the loss is a tax resident in the EU and there is no possibility to carry forward respective loss in that foreign country; additionally, such loss has to be calculated according to the rules of the Lithuanian Law on Corporate Income Tax.

Withholding taxes

Dividends	0%*, 15%
	*Dividends paid to a company holding not less than 10% of the shares granting the same percentage of votes for at least 12 months are tax-exempt, except for dividends paid to tax haven countries. The exemption may not apply where the main purpose or one of the main purposes of an arrangement or a series of arrangements is obtaining a tax advantage. It is possible to pay interim dividends in Lithuania.

Interest	0% , 10%  Interest paid to an EEA company or a company registered in the country, which Lithuania has a double tax treaty with, is tax-exempt.
Royalties	0% , 10%  Royalties paid to associated EU companies are exempt from withholding tax. Two companies are deemed to be associated companies if one of them holds directly at least 25% of the capital of the other, or a third EU company holds directly at least 25% of the capital of these two companies. A minimum holding period of 2 years is required.
Real Estate	15%   Non-resident companies are subject to a 15% withholding tax rate on income from sale, transfer or rent of real estate situated in Lithuania. Non-resident companies may also apply to the tax authorities to recalculate the tax withheld in order to be taxed on the net capital gains instead of the whole proceeds of the transfer of the real estate.

Withholding tax rates may be reduced under Double Taxation Treaties (see the list at the end of this document).

Transfer pricing

The tax authorities are entitled to make transfer pricing adjustments in respect of transactions between associated persons. Qualifying companies must document their transactions if at least one of the following criteria is met: sales income generated in the year before the transaction exceeded EUR 2,896,200; the enterprises in question are financial companies, credit institutions or insurance companies; also foreign entities engaged in business operations through permanent establishments, if the income attributed to such permanent establishments exceeds the above mentioned threshold. It is intended to update the transfer pricing rules in 2018.

Thin capitalisation

A certain part of interest paid to a controlling lender may not be deductible for corporate income tax purposes. Under the thin capitalisation rules, the non-deductible part of interest expenses is calculated based on a debt/equity ratio of 4:1.

Binding ruling

Binding ruling can be applied for future transactions and transfer pricing ("advance pricing agreement"). Tax payers are able to obtain a binding ruling by providing all relevant information, description of the conditions and expected tax implications of their planned transactions to the tax authorities. The rulings are only binding to the tax authorities for a prescribed period, but not more than the current year and 5 calendar years from the date of the ruling.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX (PIT)

Lithuania imposes a flat rate of 15% on personal income. As of 1 January 2018, income from individual activities is subject to a single 15% rate. However, a variable tax credit may be applicable for PIT payable when the annual taxable income from individual activities does not exceed EUR 35,000. Taxable income not exceeding EUR 20,000 per year is subject to a 5% rate (under the tax credit). Income from agricultural activities is subject to a reduced 10% rate during the transition period of 2018.

Taxable income

Individuals are subject to a 15% PIT rate on income derived in the calendar year from:

- employment
- property/investment: dividends, rental income, royalties, interest on deposits and loans, capital gains on securities, movable and immovable property (certain exceptions apply)
- other income (sports activities, performer's activities, etc.).

Benefits in kind received by an employee are taxed in the same manner as employment income (i.e. subject to personal income and social security contributions).

Tax-exempt amount

The law exempts certain amounts of employment income from tax:

- The monthly tax-exempt amount applicable for employment income for 2018 is calculated according to the formula:  $380 - 0.5 \times (\text{gross monthly income} - 400)$ , meaning that if gross income is EUR 1,160 per month (EUR 13,920 per year) or higher – no tax-exempt amount applies.

As of 1 January 2018, the tax-exempt amount for children raised is replaced with a direct monthly allowance of EUR 30 for parents raising children up to 18 years or older if the child attends secondary school.

Tax-exempt income

Tax-exempt income includes certain interest not exceeding EUR 500 per year, capital gains from securities not exceeding EUR 500, gifts from close relatives, gifts not exceeding the value of EUR 2,500, prizes and gifts from an employer not exceeding the value of EUR 200 per taxable year, public transport and railway tickets provided to an employee to commute to/ from work, certain allowances and compensations, insurance benefits, etc.

Deductions

The following expenses incurred by individuals can be deducted from their taxable income:

- housing loan interest if the credit was granted before 2009
- fees for initial higher education or vocational training
- life insurance premiums
- pension contributions.

The limit for such deductions is set at 25% of the total income, which is subject to a 15% income tax rate. The maximum total deductible amount of life insurance premiums and pension contributions is EUR 2,000.

Individuals engaged in individual activities may opt to deduct all properly documented expenses from their annual income or may reduce the taxable income by 30% without having an obligation to collect all supporting documents.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Social security and mandatory health insurance contributions are payable in respect of gross employment income by the employer and the employee. There is no income cap for social security contributions on employment income. Specific rules are established for self-employed individuals with a cap for contributions applied.

For employees the social security contribution rates payable in 2018 are as follows:

- employer's rate: 31.18% (32.58% applies for temporary employment)
- employee's rate: 9% (additional 2% is paid by employees participating in certain pension accumulation plans; withheld by the employer).

The standard VAT rate is 21 %, and the reduced rates are 9%, 5% and 0%.

The following are examples of transactions subject to a VAT rate of zero (0%):

The VAT compensation rate for small farmers is 6%.

Construction works are subject to the VAT reverse charge procedure, i.e. the customer has to withhold and pay VAT to the state budget if it is a taxable person registered as a VAT payer.

The incentive also applies to acquired trucks, trailers and semitrailers. Part of the acquisition costs of fixed assets, which has not been utilised during the taxable year, may be carried forward, but not more than 4 years.

Incentive for research and development (R&D). Expenses incurred for scientific research and experimental development purposes may be deducted three times in the tax period when they are incurred, provided that the R&D works are related to usual business activities.

“Innovation Box” regime. As of 2018, a reduced 5% corporate income tax rate (instead of 15%) may be applicable to qualifying profits from commercialization of patentable inventions and software.

Double tax incentive for movie making supporters (applicable in 2014-2018). An entity may deduct up to 75% of the funds provided for production of a film or its part in Lithuania from its taxable profit. Furthermore, the payable corporate income tax may be reduced up to 75% by the amount provided for film production. If the amount of funds exceeds 75% of corporate income tax payable, the exceeding amount may be carried forward to reduce profits of the two subsequent tax periods.

Free economic zones (FEZ). As of 2018, qualifying FEZ companies are exempt from corporate income tax for 10 taxable periods and are subject to 50% of the standard corporate income tax rate in subsequent 6 periods. Trade activities do not qualify for the incentive. The relief requires investment of at least EUR 1 million by a FEZ company. An alternative exists for FEZ companies rendering services - investment of at least EUR 100 thousand, but an average minimum of 20 employees. At least 75% of company's income during a taxable year must be derived from the activities carried out in a FEZ. Exemption from real estate tax applies in a FEZ.

Tax free regime for collective investment vehicles (CIV). Investment income of CIV as well as risk and private equity undertakings is tax-exempt. Exemption includes inter alia dividends and other profit distributions. Income of Lithuanian entities from investments held in CIV is non-taxable as well. As of 2018, any Lithuanian or foreign CIV, including those that do not have the status of a legal entity, are considered as taxable entities for Lithuanian corporate income tax purposes to enable them to benefit from international reliefs. Moreover, profit distribution to a foreign entity by a Lithuanian CIV is not subject to withholding tax. Nevertheless, the regime is limited for income from and proceeds to tax havens.
