

World Vision – Matt Prichard

KPMG Executive Chair Matt Prichard is also Deputy Chair of World Vision New Zealand, the country's largest NGO. Having lived and worked in Southern Africa and the Pacific, he's had first-hand experience of the need and the impact of the work that World Vision does. He is also a facilitator with Springboard Trust, Co-Chair of Champions for Change and Deputy Chair of an initiative called Mana Kai, led by the Aotearoa Circle.

Matt discusses these roles in this short video and encourages others to take their community work seriously – “Bring all your skill and experience to it. Not for profit doesn't mean not important. What I've found the most valuable as a commercial person spending time in that work is that I can sometimes challenge something that the organisation believed couldn't be changed or done differently. That works both ways too and is one of the great benefits of mixing up your purely commercial work with a range of other social contexts.” He says, “You'll find you get more than you give.”
