

Drop your boss!

Our Head of Citizenship, David King, survived the 192 metres fall off the Auckland Sky Tower to raise funds for the Graeme Dingle Foundation (GDF). David's kids, Angus and Lilly were on hand to cheer him on, along with some of KPMG's Deal Advisory team.

David raised $2,622 which will be matched by the firm and donated to support the awesome mahi (work) of the GDF – helping support at-risk youth with mentoring programmes to keep on track, learn good values and set goals for the future. Forty-nine other participants dropped on the same day – contributing over $73,000 of funds to GDF.

David followed in the footsteps of previous 'jumpers' Trevor Newland, Simon Hunter and Ross Buckley, continuing a great traditional of KPMG leaders supporting their local communities.
