

POPI

The skills and resources we are able to bring to a POPI engagement will translate into significant value for our clients. We have a dedicated South African POPI team, comprising of POPI specialists who are very well placed to provide technical advice and support to our clients in their implementation of POPI. We have developed an established POPI methodology and various tools that can be tailored to assist our clients in their POPI programme. We are also able to draw on a wealth of knowledge from our experienced global KPMG Privacy team. Our POPI team applies a multi-disciplinary model, consistent with the global KPMG Privacy approach, which has proven to add significant value to our clients in terms of both deliverables and efficiencies within projects. Our POPI team brings the privacy expertise of our Legal Advisory team, our IT Advisory team and our Compliance team to provide a comprehensive solution to our clients.

The very best team

KPMG's extensive experience in implementing privacy programmes and legal functionality uniquely positions us to deliver practical, flexible and dynamic privacy and data protection solutions to you. KPMG offers a multi-disciplinary cohesive solution in response to POPI and data protection. KPMG has an established team of business, compliance, legal and information technology professionals, all dedicated and working together to provide practical business solutions that support your businesses agenda.

Our multi-disciplinary team has extensive privacy experience coupled with an unparalleled knowledge of POPI, and are able to leverage off the KPMG global privacy capability.

KPMG's POPI team has established and applied our POPI methodology to help measure, design and implement change in a manner that can be tailored to the specific needs of your businesses. The POPI methodology applies technology and tools in many aspects of POPI integration projects, which ensures a streamlined, well-run and cost-effective project. KPMG POPI teams' approach to providing POPI support is consistent with our approach to delivering other regulatory consulting services. Once we understand where you are in terms of POPI compliance, we can help you find the right synergies with existing initiatives, to meet your compliance and business needs.

Unique, Organisation Specific Solution

Our approach is efficient, robust and focused to the individual organisation wishing to achieve POPI compliance.

We do not adhere to a one size fits all approach to POPI compliance.

Organisations vary in size, nature of operations, risk appetite, and therefore similarly POPI requirements will differ. We are an adaptable team, and are able to tailor our established approach to meet each clients specific circumstances and needs that adds value.

Experience and capability

Our experience across disciplines ensures a holistic view.

Our experience in working as a multi-disciplinary team allows us to provide solutions that are not merely theoretical, but rather that are commercially relevant and practical and most importantly do not lose sight of the business agenda.

Cost effective approach

In approaching this from an organisation specific approach, it immediately ensures that the fee is appropriate. The matching of organisation POPI requirements to the organisation needs, is what ensures we are approaching this requirement sensibly and realistically. Our fee recognises the stage of development and is scalable.
