

KPMG Managed Detection and Response

Bringing together the best of human and the best of tech

Shaping a resilient cyber force

A critical component in the new era of cyber security, managed detection and response solutions can help organisations build secure, vigilant and resilient security frameworks to protect data, assets and consumers in the digital sphere.

As cyber attacks increase in volume and complexity, having a robust cyber security strategy can help you mitigate risk and ensure business continuity amid an evolving cyber threat landscape.

From threat to transformation

At KPMG in Singapore, we combine innovative insights and industry-leading tech to drive cyber security efficiencies and shape safer, smarter organisations for the future.

Our team of managed services professionals can help you to investigate, contain and respond to security threats at speed and scale — accelerating your organisation's impact seamlessly.

At a glance: Key challenges facing cyber leaders

Emerging tech like AI and machine learning are revolutionising the way businesses operate and communicate with clients and customers. In the face of persistent and emerging cyber trends, business leaders are increasingly having to navigate new challenges in digital security. These include:

Demand for process excellence

As the global economy evolves, businesses are constantly looking for smart solutions to enhance their cyber posture while maximising productivity and efficiency.

Talent gap

Even as the demand for trained cybersecurity professionals grows, scarcity in talent supply is creating potential gaps in security.

Increased regulatory frameworks

The increasing frequency and sophistication of cyber threats is driving the demand in regulation and compliance.
