

With record-high confidence, global organisations are reaping the rewards of digital transformation

Enthusiasm for the pivotal role of tech burns bright

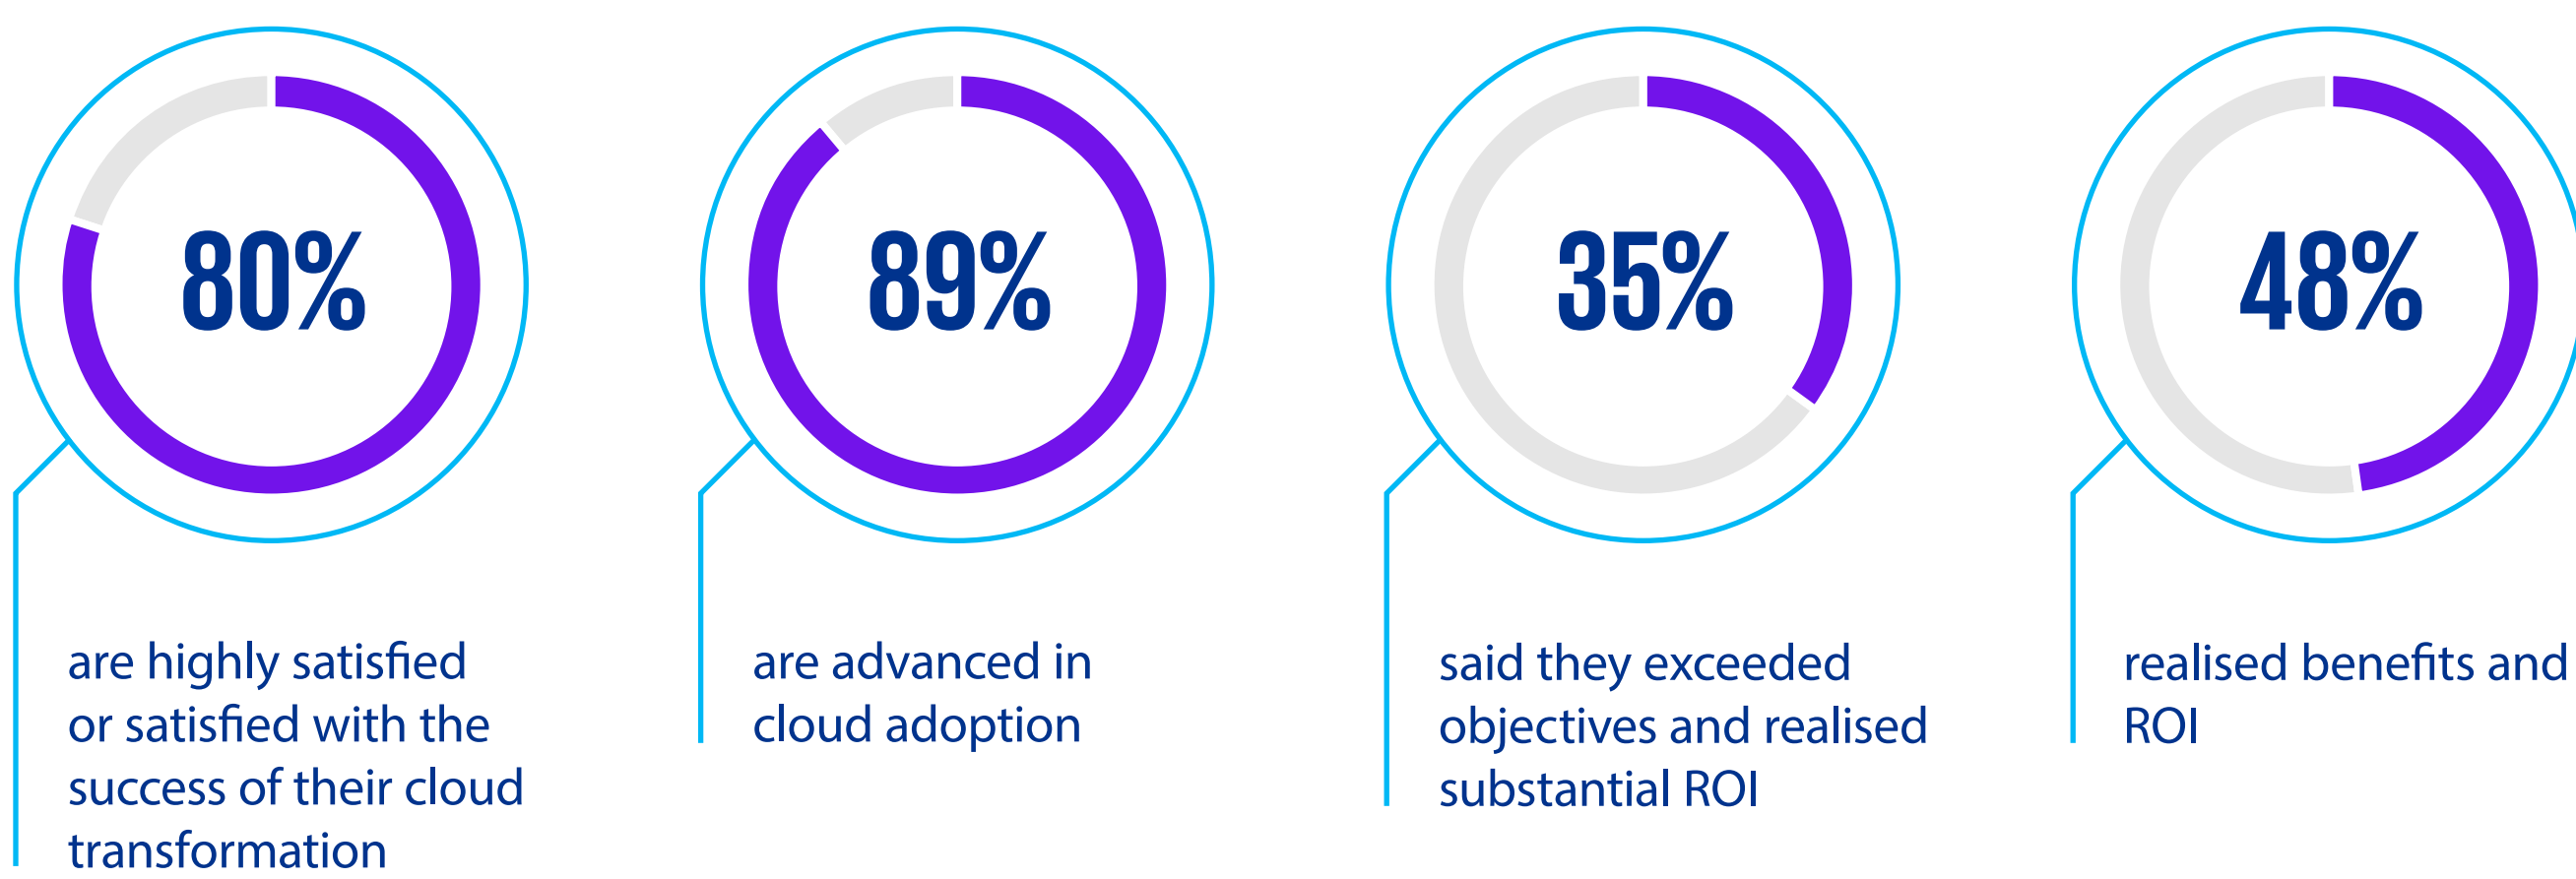

Rising costs, economic uncertainty, geopolitical fractures and a global talent crisis have created arduous conditions for today's businesses. The KPMG global tech report 2022 reveals that to protect market share and win new business, tech leaders are turning to new and emerging technologies to strengthen customer loyalty and enhance their products and services.

Tech maturity is growing

Cloud adoption is surging

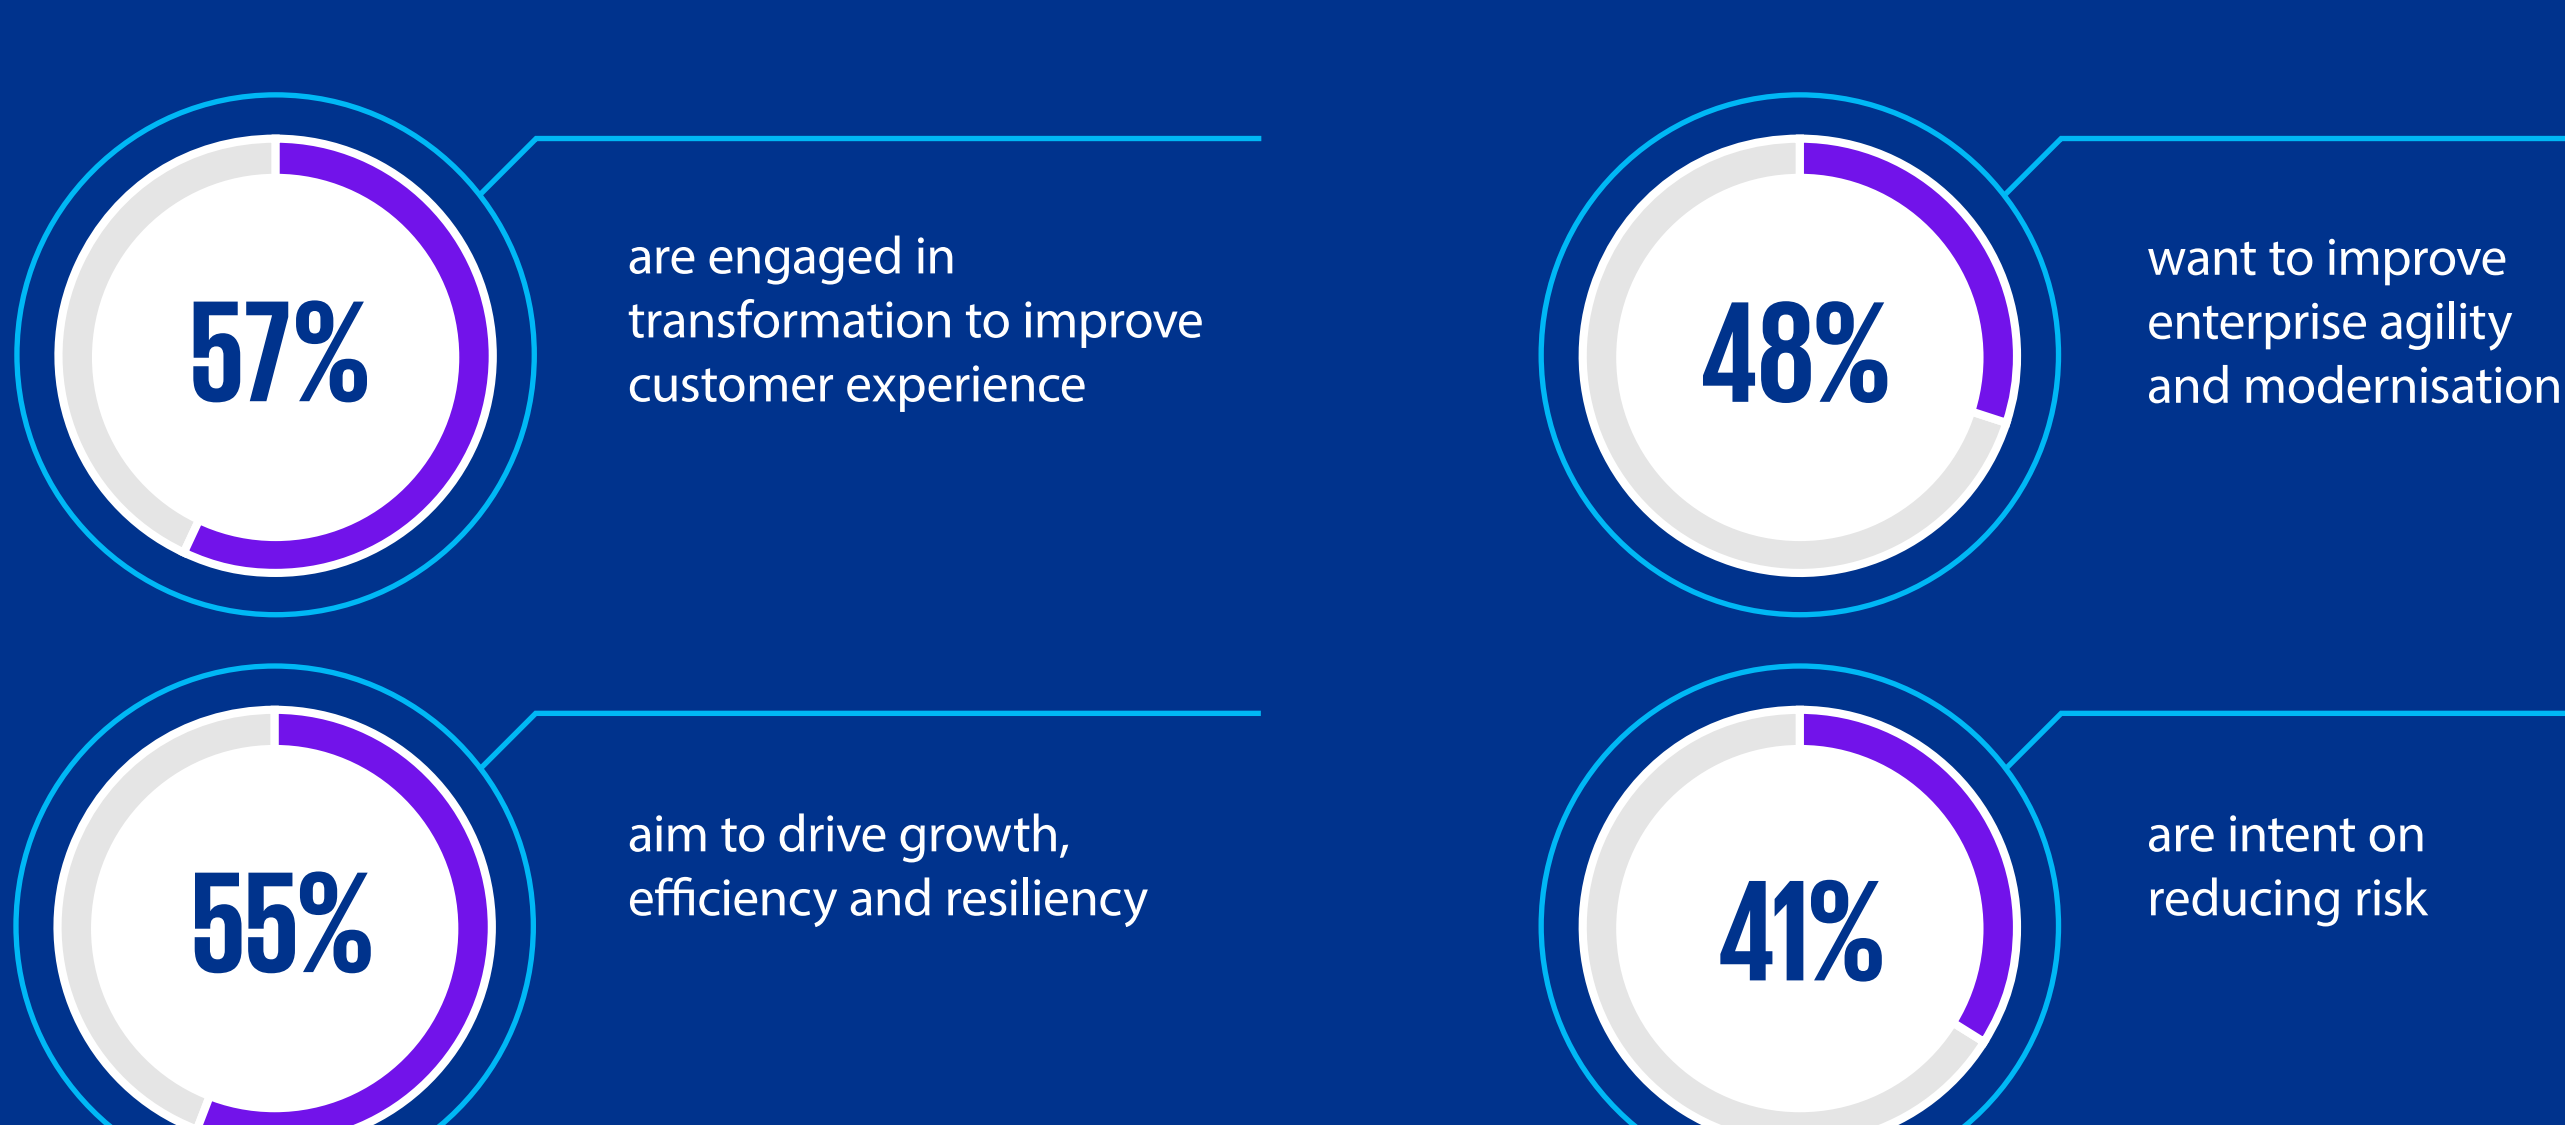

On average, half of enterprise workloads are already in the cloud

Enterprise ERP/apps are advancing

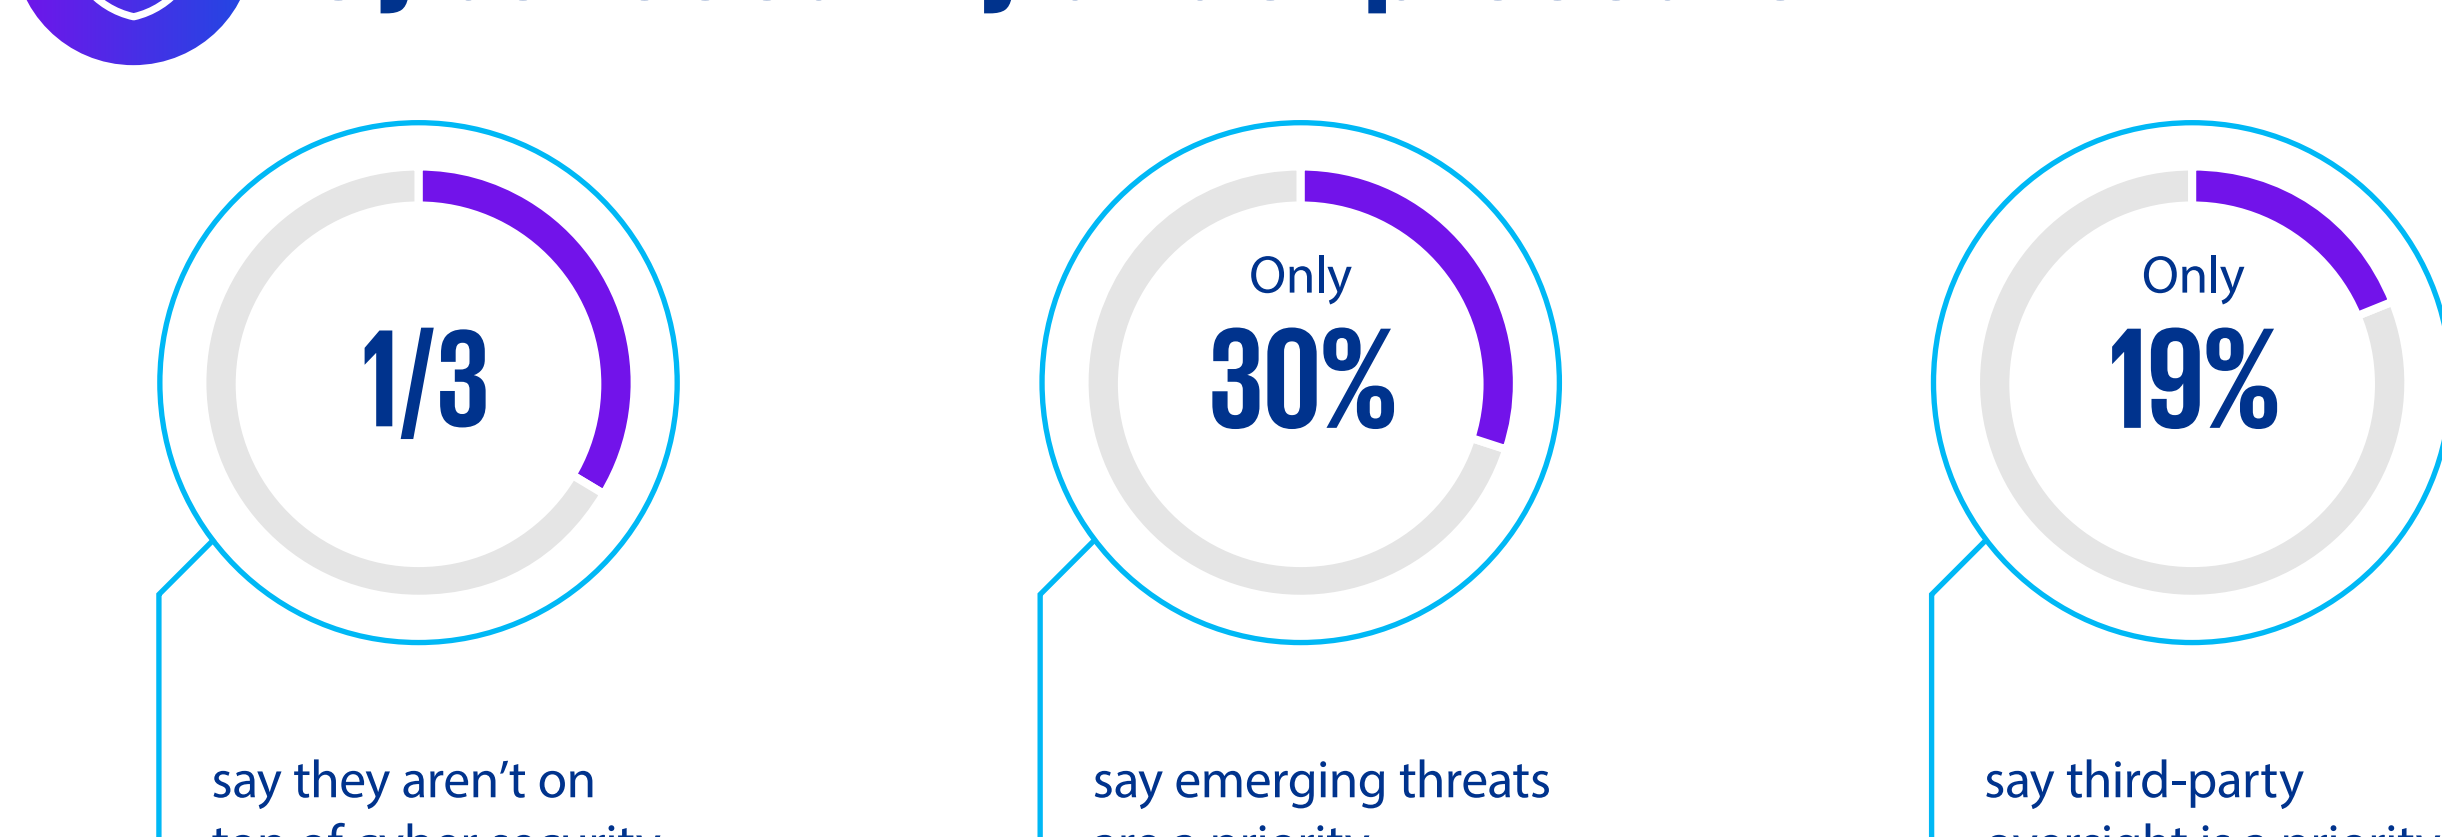

Digital transformation drivers

Top 3 skills gap issues that threaten to slow down transformation

Cyber security under pressure

Download the full survey results and discover how KPMG can help with your digital transformation.