IRS expands penalty relief for dyed diesel fuel in Florida; hurricane-related relief

The IRS today—in response to continued disruptions resulting from Hurricane Ian—announced that it will not impose a penalty when dyed diesel fuel with a sulfur content that does not exceed 15 parts-per-million is sold for use or used on the highway in the state of Florida. This penalty relief expands previously issued penalty relief that applied only to emergency vehicles. Read TaxNewsFlash

Today's IRS release—IR-2022-177 (October 11, 2022)—explains that the penalty relief is available to any person that sells or uses dyed diesel fuel for highway use. The relief is effective as of September 28, 2022, and will remain in effect through October 19, 2022.
