

KPMG Digital Gateway for Law

An expansive global platform tackling today's legal business issues through technology

The development of new markets, rising costs, complex regulatory requirements, changes in communication and progressive digitalization are all pushing legal departments to evolve. Transforming through the use of technology and by automating processes and repeatable tasks can help legal departments fulfill obligations efficiently and with consistent quality, despite fast-changing conditions. It can also help departments and their organizations save time and resources so their legal minds can focus on more complex matters and greater value-creating activities.

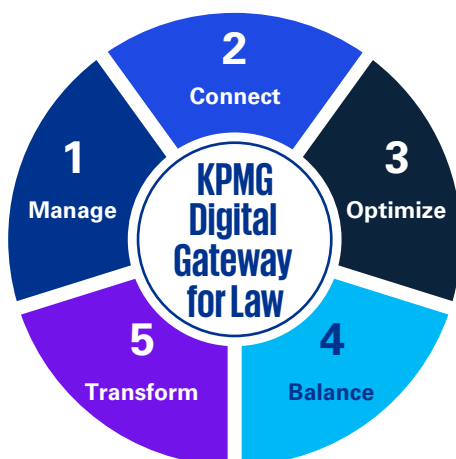

Technology-enabled solutions for the modern legal professional

Powered by Microsoft Azure, KPMG Digital Gateway for Law is a single platform cloud-based solution that gives you access to the full suite of KPMG Legal technologies, supporting services, industry news and latest KPMG insights, while connecting you with knowledgeable professionals from across the global KPMG network.

KPMG Digital Gateway for Law showcases a quality investment in streamlining the management of corporate and legal data, providing a secure and single access point to KPMG Law's Global Priority Solutions, as well as the applications, automation and analytical data insights that are available as part of the suite of applications available from the overarching Digital Gateway platform. The platform combines the expertise of KPMG's global network of legal professionals, our alliances and our technology solutions to form an integrated platform that has been built to support legal leaders like you, and the evolving needs of legal functions.

KPMG Digital Gateway for Law offers tools to support global entity management, international business reorganization, legal entity rationalization, mass claims, contract lifecycle management and more by helping to turn data into value, streamline compliance and planning, and enable effective collaboration across legal departments and beyond.

Transform your business function for the demands you face

- Manage planning processes, workflow and documentation across borders, ensuring the right balance of central and local delivery in reporting and enhancing collaboration.
- Connect and operate efficiently and effectively on a global basis, across your teams and with the KPMG member firm teams that serve you.
- Optimize your business activities, technologies and data management, so you can spend more time benefiting from your data and less time collecting it.
- Balance the need to react with the opportunity for proactive insights, so you can track and respond to fast-moving regulatory changes and perform scenario-planning for future needs.
- Transform your business function through the adoption of modern technology solutions and data-driven business management techniques.

Benefit from billions in technology investment

The KPMG Digital Gateway platform enables you to benefit from our significant investments in technology across KPMG International and its network of member firms. We're in the midst of a 5-year US$5 billion investment journey in technology, people and innovation to accelerate the digital transformation of KPMG firms and our clients, including more than US$1 billion in tax & legal technology specifically. Digital Gateway puts these investments at your fingertips.

The Future of Legal

Multiple forces, from geopolitical change to business model evolution to increasing department digitalization are having an impact on business strategy and operations, and increasing the demands on legal departments today. The opportunity now exists for legal, risk, regulatory and compliance teams to respond to these forces and reimagine the way in which they deliver services.

For more information into the issues that are having an impact on businesses and the opportunities in-house counsels have to evolve and reimagine their roles and functions for success, check out and subscribe to the Future of Legal series, which is an on-going series of articles, publications and podcasts.
