

EU Unshell Directive Proposal

July 2025

What is Unshell?

- On December 22, 2021, the European Commission issued a proposal for a Directive aimed at fighting the misuse of 'shell entities' for tax purposes (the Unshell Directive).
- Unanimity in the Council of the EU is required for adoption.

Why has this been proposed?

- The proposed measures aim to enable tax authorities to detect entities lacking minimum economic substance and that are misused for the purpose of obtaining tax advantages.
- The intention is to disallow such entities the benefits of certain withholding tax reliefs, unless they are able to successfully challenge the presumption that they qualify as shells or benefit from tax advantages.

Who is affected?

- All EU undertakings, irrespective of legal form or size.
- Exclusions:
  - Companies listed on a regulated stock exchange
  - Regulated financial undertakings
  - Holding companies with no / limited cross-border elements
  - Entities with at least five full-time employees.

How would the proposed rules operate?

The proposal outlines a seven-step process.

- Entities in scope self-assess against three gateway criteria that examine the type of income, volume of cross-border activity and level of outsourcing.
- Entities crossing all three gateways are deemed to be at high-risk of lacking substance and would be required to report on substance through their annual tax return.
- Reporting entities that fail to meet three substance indicators related to own infrastructure (premises and bank account) and nexus (employees and/ or directors), are deemed to be 'shell entities'.
- The shell presumption can be rebutted by bringing evidence of commercial reasons and nexus.
- Entities can also request an upfront exemption by substantiating a lack of tax motives test.
- Tax consequences include denial of certain tax benefits.
- Data on shell entities would be automatically exchanged between Member States.

What are the consequences of being a shell?

- 'Shell entity': no certificate, or qualified certificate of tax residence and denial of Parent-Subsidiary and Interest and Royalties Directives benefits.
- EU shareholder: tax the payments received by the 'shell entity' as if received directly.

What is the status of the Unshell proposal?

- The text of the Directive has been subject to lengthy discussions in the Council of the EU working groups. Several compromise texts were proposed, yet Member States have not yet reached agreement.
- Based on the December 8, 2023, ECOFIN report, a compromise text was proposed by the Spanish presidency outlining a two-stage approach, i.e., i) first step: automatic exchange of information based on a set of agreed hallmarks and domestic tax consequences where appropriate, and ii) second step: exchange and evaluation of best practices on applying tax consequences.
- According to a June 2025 ECOFIN report to the European Council, during working party discussion in May 2025, Member States agreed that the analysis of the Unshell proposal in the Council should be discontinued in light of the current EU tax simplification efforts.
- Whilst discussions on the Unshell proposal are on hold, Member States may consider whether the aims of the Unshell proposal could be achieved with clarifications or amendments of hallmarks in DAC6.

When would Unshell be implemented and when would it become applicable?

- The initial aim was adoption in 2023 and application of the rules from January 1, 2024. However, due to the delays in the negotiation process, the final text and date of application remaining uncertain.
- A legislative proposal for the recast and potential amendment of the DAC6 is expected in the first quarter of 2026. It is unclear whether this will take into consideration Unshell objectives.
