Overview and Introduction

1 Overview and Introduction

Taxation varies based on the residential status of the individual in a Financial Year (FY). Individuals can be classified as Resident and Ordinarily Resident (ROR), Not Ordinarily Resident (NOR), or Non-Resident (NR) in a particular Financial Year.

RORs are taxed on worldwide income and are required to report their global assets in the India tax returns. NRs and NORs are taxed only on income received, accrued, or deemed to accrue or be received in India. NORs are also taxed on income derived from a business controlled or a profession set up in India. Consequently, their income accruing outside India or received outside India is not taxable in India, unless the same is received directly in India.

Salary for services rendered in India is deemed to accrue in India and hence, taxable in India for all individuals, irrespective of the place of payment, subject to benefits available under the Indian domestic tax law or the double taxation avoidance agreement India has entered with respective countries/jurisdictions. The leave period before or after services rendered in India and which forms part of the employment contract is deemed to have been earned for services rendered in India.

The official Indian currency is the Indian Rupee (INR).

Herein, the host country / jurisdiction refers to the country / jurisdiction to which the employee is assigned. The home country/jurisdiction refers to the country / jurisdiction where the assignee lives when they are not on assignment.

2 Income Tax

2.1 Tax returns and compliance

When are tax returns due? That is, what is the tax return due date?

An individual's tax return must be filed by 31 July immediately following the end of the Financial Year. An individual, whose total income includes business income and where the accounts are required to be audited, has to file the return by 31 October following the Financial Year.

There is no concept of extended return in India. However, belated return (i.e., after due date) can be filed. Belated tax return can be filed at any time before 3 months prior to the end of FY immediately succeeding the FY for which the return is being filed or before the completion of assessment (audit of India tax return), whichever is earlier.

Where a taxpayer files a return after the due date, interest is levied at 1 percent per month (or part thereof) for each month of delay on the balance tax payable. Further, where a person fails to file India Tax Return within the time prescribed, late filing fees of INR 5,000 will be charged if the return is furnished on or before 31 December*

*Further, if the total income of the person does not exceed INR 500,000, the fee payable for late filing of India Tax Return shall not exceed INR 1,000

What is the Financial Year end?

The FY begins on 1 April and ends on 31 March of the immediately following year. The income earned during a year is taxable in the relevant year. The year in which income is earned is known as the previous year or Financial Year or financial year. From a tax perspective, the 12-month period subsequent to the Financial Year is known as the assessment year.

What are the compliance requirements for tax returns in India?

An individual is required to obtain a registration with the tax authorities [i.e., a Permanent Account Number (PAN)]. PAN is a unique ten-digit identification number given by the Indian tax authorities. PAN is required to be quoted on all the correspondence with the tax authorities.

As per the domestic tax law in India, every individual is required to file India tax return for the respective financial year with the Indian-tax authorities by 31 July following the financial year end if:

- His/her income chargeable to tax in India, without giving effect to exemption claimed upon sale of a Capital Asset, exceeds basic exemption limit (i.e., INR 250,000); or
- The individual has deposited an amount or aggregate of the amounts exceeding INR 10 million in one or more current accounts maintained with a banking company or a co-operative bank; or
- Expenditure has been incurred by the taxpayer of an amount or aggregate of the amounts exceeding INR 200,000 for self or any other person for travel to a foreign country/jurisdiction; or
- Expenditure has been incurred by the taxpayer of an amount or aggregate of the amounts exceeding INR 100,000 towards consumption of electricity; or
- The total sales, turnover or gross receipts, in the business exceeds INR 6 Million during the relevant FY; or
- The total gross receipt in profession exceeds INR 1 Million during the relevant FY; or
- The aggregate of tax deducted at source and tax collected during the FY is:

- INR 50,000 or more in the case of an individual resident in India who is of the age of sixty years or more;
- INR 25,000 or more in other cases; or
- deposit in one or more savings bank account of the person, in aggregate, is INR 5 Million or more during the previous year
- He/she qualifies as Ordinary Resident of India and
 - Holds, as a beneficial owner or otherwise, any asset (including any financial interest in any entity) located outside India; or
 - Has signing authority in any account located outside India; or
 - Is a beneficiary of any asset (including any financial interest in any entity) located outside India.

In order to provide relief to senior citizens who are of the age of 75 years or above and to reduce compliance burden for them, relaxation has been provided from filing the return of income, if the following conditions are satisfied:

- The senior citizen is resident in India and of the age of 75 or more during the previous year;
- The senior citizen has pension income and no other income. However, in addition to such pension income, the individual may also have interest income from the same bank in which he is receiving his pension income;
- This bank is a specified bank as notified by the Government; and
- The senior citizen shall be required to furnish a declaration to the specified bank.
- The declaration shall be containing such particulars, in such form and verified in such manner, as prescribed.

Once the declaration is furnished, the specified bank would be required to compute the income of such senior citizen after giving effect to the deduction allowable under Chapter VI-A and rebate allowable under section 87A of the Income-tax Act, 1961 ("the Act"), for the relevant assessment year and deduct income tax on the basis of rates in force. Once this is done, there will not be any requirement of furnishing return of income by such senior citizen for this assessment year.

Further, for an individual of age 80 years or older at any time during the previous year, and who furnishes the India tax return in ITR 1 or ITR 4, it is not mandatory for the individual to e-file the return of income i.e., a paper return can be filed. For all other cases, e-filing of India tax return is mandatory.

To promote voluntary tax compliance and reduce litigation, the Finance Act, 2022 provides that a taxpayer will have an option to file an updated return disclosing additional income within 36 months from the end of the relevant FY (subject to certain conditions viz., such return cannot result in a loss/ reduction of income/ increase in refund, such return cannot be filed if assessment/ audit is initiated or completed, etc.). The taxpayer will be required to pay additional tax of 25 percent (on aggregate of incremental tax and incremental interest) to be paid if such return filed within two years from end of FY. Additional tax is 50 percent in other cases.

It may further be noted that obtaining and quoting Aadhaar is mandatory for an individual. However, the said requirement shall not apply to an individual who does not possess the Aadhaar or the Enrolment ID and is:

- Residing in the States of Assam, Jammu and Kashmir and Meghalaya.
- A non-resident as per the Act.
- Of the age of 80 years or older at any time during the previous year.
- Not a citizen of India.

Tax is required to be withheld at source on salaries, professional fees, rent, interest, dividends, etc. at the time such income is credited to the account of the payee or at the time of payment, whichever is earlier. In case the amount of tax withheld at source is short of the actual tax liability, an individual is liable to pay advance/self - assessment tax.

Advance tax is payable by the taxpayer during the FY if the estimated taxes (net of taxes withheld at source) exceed INR 10,000. Advance tax payable is the tax on estimated income of the FY, reduced by tax withheld at source. Advance tax is payable in four installments by individuals as follows:

- 15 percent is payable by 15 June of the FY
- 45 percent is payable by 15 September of the FY
- 75 percent is payable by 15 December of the FY
- 100 percent by 15 March of the FY.

It may be noted that advance tax on Capital Gains and Dividend income are required to be deposited once the same is earned in accordance with the above referred timelines.

In case of default in payment of advance tax, interest is levied on the shortfall of advance tax and the deferment of advance tax at the rate of 1 percent for every month or part thereof, during which the default occurs. Such interest is payable before filing of the tax return.

In case of default in filing of a tax return, interest is levied on the amount of unpaid tax at the rate of 1 percent for every month or part thereof for the period during which the default continues and is payable along with the self-assessment tax before filing of the tax return, if any.

Further, a resident senior citizen (i.e., 60 years and older), not having any income from a business or profession, shall not be liable to pay advance tax.

2.2 Tax rates

What are the current income tax rates for residents and non-residents in India?

Tax rates for individuals are common for all, irrespective of their residential status. The income tax rates for assessment year 2024-25 (i.e., FY 2023-24) are as follows:

Income tax rates for the FY 2023-24

Old Tax Regime (Optional):

From (INR)	To (INR)	Basic Tax (INR)	% on Excess

- Health and Education cess is applicable at 4 percent on total income tax (inclusive of surcharge, if any).

Note: There are certain prescribed incomes (i.e., Capital Gains taxable under section 111A, 112A and Dividend income from shares of a Company) which are taxable at special rate of taxes. Also, for certain incomes, surcharge is capped at 15 percent, even in case where the income exceeds INR 20,000,000.

New Tax Regime: **

This regime was introduced by the Finance Act, 2020 and subsequently modified by Finance Act, 2023 for individuals with modified tax slabs and rates. On satisfaction of certain prescribed conditions, an individual may opt to compute tax in respect of total income (without considering prescribed exemptions/ deductions), as per the new slab rates, instead of the old tax regime. From FY 2023-24, new tax regime is the default tax regime.

From (INR)	To (INR)	Basic Tax (INR)	% on Excess
0	300,000	0	0%
300,001	600,000	0	5%
600,001	900,000	15,000	10%
900,001	12,00,000	45,000	15%
12,00,001	15,00,000	90,000	20%
Above 15,00,000	-	,150,000	30%

- For resident individuals with taxable income of INR 700,000 or below, a rebate of 100 per cent of such income tax or INR 25,000, whichever is less shall be allowed.
- Surcharge for individuals at 10 percent on total income tax, if total taxable income is between INR 5,000,001 to INR 10,000,000. Marginal Relief is available.
- Surcharge for individuals is applicable at 15 percent on total income tax, if total taxable income is between INR 10,000,001 to INR 20,000,000. Marginal Relief is available.
- Surcharge for individuals is applicable at 25 percent on total income tax, if total taxable income exceeds INR 20,000,000
- Health and Education cess is applicable at 4 percent on total income tax (inclusive of surcharge, if any).

Note: There are certain prescribed incomes (i.e., Capital Gains taxable under section 111A, 112A and Dividend income from shares of a Company) which are taxable at special rate of taxes. Also, for certain incomes, surcharge is capped at 15 percent, even in case where the income exceeds INR 20,000,000.

Conditions under the New Tax Regime

The New Tax Regime, albeit, comes with a few pre-requisite conditions such as:

Foregoing prescribed exemptions:

- Leave travel concession [section 10(5) of the Act]
- House rent allowance [section 10(13A) of the Act]
- Allowances prescribed under section 10(14) of the Act, which illustratively includes Children Education Allowance, Children hostel Allowance, etc. However, the following list of allowances (being indicative) continue to be exempted, subject to conditions and notification in Rules:
 - Transport Allowance granted to specified employee to meet expenditure for the purpose of commuting between place of residence and place of duty
 - Conveyance Allowance granted to meet the expenditure on conveyance in performance of duties of an office
 - Any Allowance granted to meet the cost of travel on tour or on transfer
 - Daily Allowance to meet the ordinary daily charges incurred by an employee on account of absence from their normal place of duty
- Allowance for income of minor [section 10(32) of the Act];
- Exemption such as towards free food and beverage through vouchers provided to the employee.

Foregoing prescribed deductions:

- Deduction for entertainment allowance and employment/professional tax [section 16 of the Act]
- Interest under section 24 of the Act in respect of self-occupied or vacant property referred to in section 23(2) of the Act
- Loss under the head income from house property for rented house shall not be allowed to be set off under any other head and would be allowed to be carried forward as per extant law
- Deduction from family pension [section 57(iia) of the Act]
- Specified deductions under chapter VI-A of the Act (such as section 80C, section 80D, Section 80G, 80TTA etc.) except deduction on account of employer's contribution toward new pension scheme [section 80CCD(2) of the Act]

Apart from the above-mentioned employee specific exemptions / deductions which are not available under the new Tax regime, following are other prescribed exemptions / deductions which are not available under the new Tax regime:

- Exemptions under section 10(17) [i.e., exemption for specified members of government authorities], Section 10AA [i.e., exemption available to newly established Units in Special Economic Zones] are not available.
- Few prescribed deductions from the income under the head business and profession shall not be available.
- Any Deductions under chapter VI-A of the Act except for deduction under section 80CCD(2) and 80JJA shall not be available.
- Certain prescribed set off of loss are not permissible.

The Old Tax Regime (subject to above prescribed conditions and compliances) can be exercised every year, if the individual does not have business income. In case of individual having business income, option once exercised would be applicable for all subsequent years (with a one-time option to change), except where such person ceases to have any business income.

The individual has the option to choose the Old Tax Regime, where the return of income is filed within the due date.

Subsection (6) of Section 115BAC of the Act read along with Rule 21AGA requires filing of Form 10-IEA while exercising/opting for section 115BAC tax rate. As per the specified Form 10-IEA, the same is required to be filed for taxpayer exercising section 115BAC tax rates and falling u/s 115BAC(6)(i) i.e., the same is applicable only where individual has income under the head business and profession.

An employee may, for the purpose of tax withholding on salary income, intimate the employer to withhold tax as per the Old Tax Regime prescribed under section 115BAC of the Act. Once opted, the employee will not be permitted to change the option during that particular financial year. The employee may, subsequently, select either of the two regimes, while preparing and filing their personal tax return, notwithstanding the choice intimated to the employer.

2.3 Residence rules

For the purposes of taxation, how is an individual defined as a resident of India?

Tax Residential status for a Financial Year shall be determined as follows:

An individual is taxed in India, based on their residential status under the Act. Residential status as per the Act is determined, inter alia, based on the number of days of physical presence of the individual in India during the FY. Please note that part of a day, date of arrival/ departure from India are considered as full day of presence in India. The principles governing the determination of residential status are laid down in Section 6 of the Act.

As per the Act, an individual is said to be 'Resident' in India in any FY if they satisfy either of the following conditions:

- He is present in India in that fiscal year for a period of 182 days or more; or
- He is present in India for a period of 60 days* or more during the FY and a total of 365 days or more during the four FYs immediately preceding the relevant FY.
- *The period of 60 days stands gets extended to 182 days / 120 days in the following cases:
- For a citizen of India who leaves India for the purposes of employment outside India or as a member of the crew of a prescribed Indian ship, in the year of departure, the 60 days condition is replaced with 182 days;
- For a citizen of India or a person of Indian origin who being outside India, comes on a visit to India in any Financial Year and their income, other than income from foreign sources, does not exceed INR1.5 million the 60 days condition is replaced with 182 days;
- For a citizen of India or a person of Indian origin who being outside India, comes on a visit to India in any Financial Year and their income, other than income from foreign sources, exceeds INR1.5 million the 60 days condition is replaced with 120 days.

If none of the above conditions are satisfied, the individual will qualify as a NR of India for that FY, unless they qualify as a Resident based on the deemed residency clause as mentioned below.

Deemed Resident

An individual, being a citizen of India, shall be deemed to be resident in India in any Financial Year, if they are not liable to tax in any other country/jurisdiction by reason of their domicile or residence or any other criteria of similar nature and their income, other than income from foreign sources, exceeds INR1.5 million.

A Resident individual could be ROR in India or NOR in India as per the Act as explained below:

If the individual qualifies as a resident only based on the deemed residency clause or based on the reduced stay of 120 days or more as explained in the above paragraphs, and does not satisfy any other basic condition, they will qualify as a NOR.

In other cases, the individual will qualify as a ROR, if both the following additional conditions are satisfied:

- They have been “resident” in India in at least two out of the ten Financial Years immediately preceding the relevant Financial Year; and
- Their stay in India during the seven preceding Financial Years immediately preceding the relevant Financial Year is more than 729 days.

If they do not satisfy either one or both the above-mentioned additional conditions, they would qualify as a NOR.

Is there, a de minimus number of days rule when it comes to residency start and end date? For example, a taxpayer can’t come back to the host country / jurisdiction for more than 10 days after their assignment is over and they repatriate.

There is no de minimus number of days rule in respect of residency start/end date. The expatriate can freely move in and outside India provided they hold a valid visa.

What if the assignee enters the country/jurisdiction before their assignment begins?

In India, the residential status is determined based on the individual's total physical stay in India during the relevant Financial Year. Accordingly, the days spent in India prior to start of the assignment (irrespective of purpose of stay) are considered for determining the residential status of the individual in India.

2.4 Termination of residence

Are there any tax compliance requirements when leaving India?

Subject to notified exceptions, every person who is not domiciled in India, who visits India in connection with business, profession, or employment and who derives income from any source in India, is required to, prior to their departure, obtain a no objection certificate from the tax authorities about their departure in Form 30A along with other relevant documents.

Further, every person who is domiciled in India, at the time of their departure from India, shall furnish Form 30C to the income tax authorities, which shall inter-alia, include the following:

- Their PAN
- Purpose of their visit outside India
- The estimated period of their stay outside India.

What if the assignee comes back for a trip after residency has terminated?

In India, there is no concept of termination of residency.

The residential status is determined each year based on the total physical stay of the individual in the concerned Financial Year. This is irrespective of the purpose of stay of the individual in India. Also, there is no concept of part/split residency in India under the domestic tax law of India.

Communication between immigration and taxation authorities

Do the immigration authorities in India provide information to the local taxation authorities regarding when a person enters or leaves India?

There is no formal system under which immigration authorities in India provide information to local taxation authorities. However, recently tax authorities have started requesting such details from the immigration authorities on a regular basis.

Further, since local taxation authorities and immigration authorities are moving towards online process, same may be integrated in due course of time.

Filing requirements

Will an assignee have a filing requirement in the host country/jurisdiction after they leave the country/jurisdiction and repatriate?

As per the domestic tax law in India, every individual is required to file India tax return for the respective financial year with the Indian-tax authorities by 31 July following the financial year end if:

- His/her income chargeable to tax in India, without giving effect to exemption claimed upon sale of a Capital Asset, exceeds basic exemption limit (i.e., INR 250,000); or
- Expenditure has been incurred by the taxpayer of an amount or aggregate of the amounts exceeding INR200,000 for self or any other person for travel to a foreign country/jurisdiction; or
- Expenditure has been incurred by the taxpayer of an amount or aggregate of the amounts exceeding INR100,000 towards consumption of electricity; or
- He/she qualifies as Ordinary Resident of India and
 - holds, as a beneficial owner or otherwise, any asset (including any financial interest in any entity) located outside India; or
 - has signing authority in any account located outside India; or
 - is a beneficiary of any asset (including any financial interest in any entity) located outside India.

2.5 Economic employer approach

Do the taxation authorities in India adopt the economic employer approach to interpreting Article 15 of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) treaty? If no, are the taxation authorities in India considering the adoption of this interpretation of economic employer in the future?

There are no defined rules in this respect. However, OECD commentary is commonly referred by tax authorities while interpreting the treaty provisions.

De minimus number of days

Are there a de minimus number of days before the local taxation authorities will apply the economic employer approach? If yes, what is the de minimus number of days?

There are no de minimus number of days for applying the economic employer approach.

2.6 Types of taxable compensation

What categories are subject to income tax in general situations?

In general, income from employment includes all compensation, in-cash or in-kind, which is due to or received by an employee in a Financial Year. Taxable compensation includes the following:

- Salary, wages, bonuses, allowances, and other cash compensation income tax paid by the employer on behalf of the employee;
- Specified perquisites (such as Rent-Free Accommodation, club membership, reimbursement of utilities, etc.).

Intra-group statutory directors

Will a non-resident of India who, as part of their employment within a group company, is also appointed as a statutory director (i.e., member of the Board of Directors in a group company situated in India) trigger a personal tax liability in India, even though no separate director's fee/remuneration is paid for their duties as a board member?

The portion of the compensation which relates to services rendered in India will be taxable in India. Services rendered in India, is generally equated with physical presence in India.

Hence, compensation commensurate with the days that they actually spend in India should be taxable in India under the head “salary” subject to availability of short stay exemption under the Act/ under the relevant Treaty.

a) Will the taxation be triggered irrespective of whether or not the board member is physically present at the board meetings in India?

If the individual does not come to India at all for any for the board meetings, a position can be taken that the same is not subject to tax in India, unless they qualify as an ‘Ordinarily’ resident of India.

b) Will the answer be different if the cost directly or indirectly is charged to/allocated to the company situated in India (i.e., as a general management fee where the duties rendered as a board member is included)?

As discussed above, salary commensurate with the days that they actually spend in India would be taxable in India subject to availability of short stay exemption under the Act / under the relevant Treaty. In the instant case, we understand that cross charge / recovery would be in the nature of general management fee, accordingly, the possibility of claiming the short stay exemption under the Act / under the relevant Treaty may need to be analyzed on case-to-case basis.

c) In the case that a tax liability is triggered, how will the taxable income be determined?

As mentioned above, compensation commensurate with the days that they actually spend in India should be taxable in India under the head “salary”. This is subject to availability of short stay exemption under the Act / under the relevant Treaty.

2.7 Tax-exempt income

Are there any areas of income that are exempt from taxation in India? If so, please provide a general definition of these areas.

Generally, subject to certain conditions and limits, the following items of compensation are not taxable:

- House Rent Allowance certain travel/tour allowances
- Reimbursement of medical expenses up to specified limits
- Medical expenses of an employee or any member of their family incurred outside India leave travel concession
- Allowance granted to meet payment of rent towards accommodation
- Tax borne by the employer on non-monetary perquisites reimbursement of telephone expenses including cost of the telephone.
- Gratuity
- Leave encashment
- Gift from employer up to specified limit Superannuation Employer contribution.

It may be noted that, in case where the individual opts for New Tax Regime, the said individual is not eligible to avail prescribed exemption and deductions.

House Rent Allowance (HRA):

HRA is an allowance granted to meet the housing costs of the employee. Direct tax implications

- A tax exemption is available to employee towards HRA, limited to

- Least of the following
 - 1: 40 per cent of salary
 - 2: (50 per cent in case the house is situated in Mumbai, Delhi, Kolkata or Chennai);
- HRA actually received by employee; and
- Excess of actual rent paid over 10 per cent of salary.
- HRA exemption is not available if the
 - Employee resides in their own house; or
 - In a house for which they do not incur any rent (this could cover instances where the house is available to an individual even without payment of rent).

HRA exemption may be availed only for the period during which the employee occupies the house during the relevant Financial Year.

If the taxpayer (other than those covered under audit of books of account) paying rent exceeding INR50,000 per month or part of the month to a resident, the taxpayer is required to deduct Tax Deducted at Source (TDS) at 5 percent.

It may be noted that, in case where the individual opts for New Tax Regime, the said individual is not eligible to avail HRA exemption.

Certain travel/tour allowances

Allowances granted to meet the cost of travel on tour or on transfer, including sums paid in connection with the transfer, packing, and transportation of personal effects on such transfer, are exempt to the extent to which such expenses are actually incurred.

Reimbursement of medical expenses

Reimbursement of medical expenses is generally taxable in the hands of the employee. However, in following case the reimbursement of medical expenses is not taxable, subject to prescribed condition:

- Any expenditure actually incurred by the employee on their medical treatment or treatment of any member of their family
 - In any hospital maintained by the Government or any local authority or any other hospital approved by the Government for the purposes of medical treatment of its employees; or
 - In respect of the prescribed diseases or ailments, in any hospital approved by the Principal Chief Commissioner or Chief Commissioner having regard to the prescribed guidelines.

Medical expenses of an employee or any member of their family incurred outside India

Medical expenses of an employee or any member of their family incurred outside India is exempt to the extent permitted by Reserve Bank of India. The cost of travel and stay abroad of the employee or a family member and one attendant is also exempt to the extent permitted by the Reserve Bank of India.

Expenditure on Covid treatment and ex-gratia

The Government of India, vide a press release on 25 June 2021 announced tax exemption for expenditure on COVID-19 treatment and ex-gratia received on death due to COVID-19.

The Act amended vide Finance Act, 2022 has provided that any sum received for treatment of any COVID-19 related illness from employer / any other person(s) shall not be considered as income in hands of the recipient. Ex-gratia received by family members of the deceased person from employer (without any monetary limit) / any other person(s) (up to INR 1 Million) within twelve months of death caused by COVID-19 related illness shall not be considered as income in the hands of the recipient.

Leave travel concession

Leave travel concession granted to the employee for themselves and their family for proceeding on leave to any place in India is exempt with respect to two journeys performed in a block of 4 calendar years, subject to fulfillment of certain conditions. The current block is calendar years 2022 to 2025.

Subject to specific conditions, one unutilized eligibility of Leave Travel concession of current block can be carried forward to first year of subsequent block.

It may be noted that, in case where the individual opts for New Tax Regime, the said individual is not eligible to avail this exemption.

Tax borne by the employer on non-monetary perquisites

Tax borne by the employer on non-monetary perquisites provided to the employee is exempt from tax provided the employer does not claim it as a deduction against its taxable income.

Telephone expenses

Telephone (including the mobile phone) expenses, paid by the employer on behalf of the employee or reimbursed by the employer based on actual expenses of the employees, is exempt from taxation.

Gratuity

Gratuity received (in accordance with Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972) by employee on retirement/termination of employment or by family on death of employee taxpayer from employer is exempted from tax subject to specified limit (presently INR2,000,000) w.e.f. 29 March 2018.

Leave encashment

Leave encashment received by employee on retirement from employer is exempted from tax subject to specified limit (presently INR 25,00,000) w.e.f 1 April 2023.

Gift from employer

Any gift received by employee from employer in kind is taxable in the hands of employee only in case where the aggregate value of gift(s) is INR5,000 or above. Gifts made in cash or convertible into money (like gift cheques) will be entirely taxable in the hands of the employees.

Superannuation Employer contribution

Employer's contribution towards specified approved Superannuation is taxable, subject to amount of aggregate contribution exceeds INR750,000*

*Under the erstwhile provisions, the employer contribution to Provident Fund in excess of 12 percent of specified salary, employer contribution to Superannuation Fund in excess of INR150,000 and employer contribution to National Pension Scheme in excess of 10 percent of specified salary is taxable as salary. As per the amended law, from FY 2020-21 onwards, aggregate of such employer contributions exceeding INR750,000 to all these 3 funds, is taxable as perquisite. Further, annual accretion (interest, dividend or other income) to the extent it relates to the taxable employer's contribution as above, is treated as a taxable perquisite.

Employer Provident Fund contribution

Employer's contribution towards Provident Fund is exempt from tax subject to fulfillment of certain conditions*.

*Under the erstwhile provisions, the employer contribution to Provident Fund in excess of 12 percent of specified salary, employer contribution to Superannuation Fund in excess of INR 150,000 and employer contribution to National Pension Scheme in excess of 10 percent of specified salary is taxable as salary. As per the amended law, from FY 2020-21 onwards, aggregate of such employer contributions exceeding INR 750,000 to all these 3 funds, is taxable as perquisite. Further, annual accretion (interest, dividend or other income) to the extent it relates to the taxable employer's contribution as above, is treated as a taxable perquisite.

Effective FY 2021-22, Interest accrued on contribution in excess of INR 250,000 by employee to Employees Provident Fund account is also taxable.

The amount received upon withdrawal of Provident Fund would be taxable in the Financial Year of withdrawal at specified tax rates, However, in case prescribed conditions are met, the amount received upon withdrawal of Provident Fund would be exempt from income tax in India.

2.8 Expatriate concessions

Are there any concessions made for expatriates in India?

Certain exemptions are available to foreign nationals and/or non-residents, subject to fulfillment of prescribed conditions. The exemptions available include the following:

- Remuneration for services rendered by a foreign national, employed by a foreign enterprise during their stay in India, is exempt if:
 - The total period of the stay in India does not exceed 90 days in a Financial Year the foreign enterprise is not engaged in any trade or business in India; and
 - The remuneration is not cross charged to an entity subject to Indian income tax.
- Remuneration received by or due to a non-resident foreign national for services rendered in connection with employment on a foreign ship, where the total period of the stay in India does not exceed an aggregate period of 90 days in a Financial Year, is exempt from tax.
- Remuneration received by a foreign national working as an employee of a foreign government is exempt from tax, if the remuneration is received in connection with training activity in an undertaking, office, or company owned by the government.
- Remuneration from any cooperative technical assistance program in accordance with an agreement entered into by the central government with a foreign government is exempt from tax, provided:
 - the remuneration is received from the foreign government
 - the employee is required to pay income tax to another foreign government on income arising outside India.

In addition, concessions/benefits such as short-stay or exclusions are also available under the Double Tax Avoidance Agreement between India and host country/jurisdiction.

2.9 Salary earned from working abroad

Is salary earned from working abroad taxed in India? If so, how?

Compensation for work performed by an employee abroad, which is not in connection with the services being rendered in India, is not taxable in India, unless the same is received in India, where the employee qualifies as NR or NOR in India.

If the expatriate qualifies as a resident and ordinarily resident of India, the salary earned for working abroad may be taxable in India even if the same is received outside India, and subject to Treaty benefits or benefits under the domestic tax laws of India.

2.10 Taxation of investment income and capital gains

Are investment income and capital gains taxed in India? If so, how?

Income from the transfer of a capital asset situated in India is deemed to accrue in India. Hence, all individuals are liable for tax on capital gains arising from the transfer of capital assets in India.

Securities Transaction Tax (STT) is leviable on transactions of equity shares in a company, units of an equity oriented Mutual Fund and derivatives which are routed through any recognized stock exchange in India.

Long Term Capital Gains

Specified Securities:

It may be noted that if a security (other than a unit) listed on recognized stock exchange in India or a unit of equity-oriented fund or UTI unit or zero-coupon bond is held for a period of more than 12 months, it becomes a long-term capital asset and any gain arising on sale of such long-term capital asset will be long term capital gains. Long Term Capital Gains from sale of listed equity shares/unit of equity-oriented fund/unit of business trust (subject to Securities Transaction Tax having been paid at specified times) computed without giving indexation benefit, exceeding INR100,000, shall be taxed at 10 percent (plus applicable surcharge and cess). Relief is provided in respect of unrealized gains until 31 January 2018, in case of shares/units already held by taxpayers. The tax calculation needs to be done in the specified manner.

Other Capital Securities:

If a capital asset (other than mentioned in above para) is held for a period of more than 36 months*, then it would be a long-term capital asset and any gains arising on account of sale of such capital asset will be considered as long-term capital gains. These long-term capital gains are taxable at a special rate of tax at 20 percent. Further, the benefit of indexation can be availed. This is law in general and is subject to few exceptions. If there is a long-term capital loss, then it can be carried forward to 8 subsequent assessment years for set-off against taxable long-term capital gains.

Short Term Capital Gains

Specified Assets:

If a security (other than a unit) listed on recognized stock exchange in India or a unit of equity-oriented fund or UTI unit or zero-coupon bond is held up to 12 months, it becomes a short-term capital asset and any gains arising on account of such sale will be considered as short-term capital gains*. The short-term capital gains are taxable at special rate of tax at 15 percent. Further, if there is any loss incurred on such transaction, then it can be carried forward to 8 subsequent assessment years for set-off against taxable capital gains.

Other Capital Assets:

If a capital asset (other than mentioned in above para) is held for less than 36 months*, then it would be a short-term capital asset and any gains arising on account of sale of such capital asset will be considered as short-term capital gains. These short-term capital gains are taxable at normal slab rate of tax of the assessed. Further, if there is any loss incurred on such transaction, then it can be carried forward to 8 subsequent assessment years for set-off against taxable capital gains.

Common points for both long term and short-term Capital Gains:

*In case of share of a company (not being a share listed in a recognized stock exchange in India), for the words '36 months', words '24 months' have been substituted.

*Long-term capital gains arising from sale of listed shares if Securities Transaction Tax (STT) was not paid at the time the shares were acquired will be taxable.

*Also, Immovable property (Land or building or both) would need to be held only for 24 months (earlier 36 months) to be treated as long-term capital asset.

Long term capital exemption from sale of equity shares, unit of equity-oriented fund or units of business trust under Section 10(38) has been withdrawn. And new section 112A has been inserted, to tax long-term capital gains in case of transfer of the following long-term capital assets (held for a minimum period of 12 months):

- equity shares of a company listed on a recognized stock exchange;
- or a unit of an equity-oriented fund; or
- a unit of a business trust.

Tax payable on such capital gains shall be computed as follows:

- Tax on such long-term capital gains exceeding INR100,000 at 10 percent (without indexation) Tax on balance income as per the normal provisions.
- Cost of acquisition, in respect of assets acquired on or before 31 January 2018, shall be higher of:
 - Actual cost of acquisition of such assets or
 - Lower of:
 - fair market value of such assets as on 31 January 2018; or
 - full value of consideration received or accruing as result of transfer of the capital asset
 - Cost of acquisition for bonus and right shares acquired before 31 January 2018 – fair market value. Gains accrued up to 31 January 2018 will continue to be exempt.

Dividends, interest, and rental income

Dividend income from shares of companies in India and income from equity oriented mutual fund units (fully exempt), which were earlier subject to a dividend distribution tax in the hands of company / mutual fund now fully taxable in the hands of individual receiving the same. Dividend Distribution Tax has been abolished effective 1 April 2020 and consequently the dividend income is now taxable in the hands of the recipient. Further, interest expenses incurred specifically for earning such dividend income is deductible up to 20 per cent of such dividend income.

Interest income earned in respect of the investments made in India is subject to tax in India. Also, in case of Resident and Ordinarily residents, interest income from foreign investment is taxable, subject to treaty benefits.

Rental income from a house property is taxable in the hands of its legal owner. The net rental income (i.e., gross rent less municipal taxes) is chargeable to tax after making the following deductions:

- Standard deduction – 30 per cent of the net rental income;
- Interest on loan taken for purchase of House property. – INR 200,000 / INR 30,000 / Amount of interest paid or payable during the Financial Year, depending on the facts and circumstances of each case.

No other deductions are permissible from the said rental income.

The maximum amount of house property loss which can be set off against other income is capped at INR200,000. The unadjusted loss during the Financial Year can be carried forward for set-off against house property income up to 8 subsequent years.

A taxpayer can treat two house properties owned by the taxpayer as self-occupied property. Accordingly, notional rent from such second self-occupied/vacant property is not required to be offered to tax. Further, the aggregate tax deduction in respect of the interest paid on housing loans with respect to both the aforesaid self-occupied/vacant properties would be capped to INR200,000 per FY.

Where the taxpayer opts for new tax regime, no deduction towards interest payment for self-occupied property and principal repayment towards any property shall be available. Further, such loss shall not be allowed to be carried forward

Gains from stock option exercises.

Benefits from Employees Stock Option Plan (ESOP) are taxed as perquisite in the hands of employees. The taxability of a benefit arising out of ESOPs is triggered at the time of allotment of the specified securities. The perquisite value is determined as the Fair Market Value (FMV) on the date on which the “option” is exercised by the employee as reduced by the amount actually paid by or recovered from the employee in respect of such ESOPs. FMV means the value determined in accordance with the method prescribed by the Central Board of Direct Taxes.

Further, if after exercising the options, the employee holds the shares for some time and sells the same subsequently, the difference between the sale consideration and the FMV considered for calculating the perquisite value would be subject to capital gains tax.

Depending on the period of holding of the shares, capital gains would be considered either as short-term or long-term.

In case of eligible start-up employers issuing specified securities (e.g., ESOP etc.), from FY 2020-21 onwards, tax on perquisite on exercise of ESOP shall be payable within 14 days of the earliest of the following:

- Expiry of 60 months from the end of the relevant Financial Year in which the options are exercised; or
- The date of sale of such shares by the individual; or
- The date the individual ceases to be an employee of such start-up.

The rate for such tax shall be the rate applicable in the Financial Year in which the specified security is allotted to the employees.

Principal residence gains and losses

There is no specific provision governing the taxability of gains and losses of principal residence.

Capital losses

Subject to certain conditions, the capital losses incurred by the assignee can be set-off only against the capital gains during the Financial Year. If the loss cannot be set-off, the amount can be carried forward to 8 subsequent Financial Years to be set-off against specified capital gains.

Gifts

Any sum(s) received (except for sums received from specified relatives and in certain other specified situations) by an individual from any person in cash/cheques/draft/any other mode or by way of credit or otherwise than as adequate consideration for goods and services, aggregate of inadequate value of such sums received during the Financial Year is taxable in the hands of the recipient as "income from other sources." However, where the total of such receipts does not exceed INR50,000 in the aggregate during the Financial Year, the said sums are not taxable.

2.11 Additional capital gains tax (CGT) issues and exceptions

Are there additional capital gains tax (CGT) issues in India? If so, please discuss?

For non-residents, capital gains arising from transfer of shares or debentures of an Indian company are calculated in the same foreign currency which was initially used to purchase such shares or debentures and the cost inflation index is not applied to such gains. Long-term capital gains arising from the transfer of specified bonds or Global Depository Receipts issued in foreign currency are taxed at the rate of 10 percent.

Are there capital gains tax exceptions in India? If so, please discuss?

Exemption from long-term capital gains may be claimed by making investment in a residential house property in India and/or certain bonds, and/or equity of an Eligible Business subject to specified conditions.

Pre-CGT assets

Not applicable.

Deemed disposal and acquisition

Not applicable.

Virtual Digital Asset (VDA)

The Act amended vide Finance Act, 2022 provides that Income from transfer of VDA e.g., Crypto assets, Non-Fungible Tokens, etc. will be subject to tax at 30 percent (plus applicable surcharge and cess) with deduction of only cost of acquisition. Loss, if any, on transfer of VDA cannot be set-off against any other income / carried forward to succeeding FY. Transferee will be liable to withhold tax at source at one percent on the amount paid to the transferor (subject to conditions) with effect from 1 July 2022. Further, gift of VDA from non-specified relatives is also taxable in the hands of recipient in specific circumstances.

As per the changes made by the Finance Act, 2020, the aggregate of employer contributions towards Provident Fund, Superannuation fund, National Pension System exceeding INR750,000 will be taxable as a perquisite in the hands of the employee. Further, annual accretion (interest, dividend or other income) to the extent it relates to the taxable employer's contribution as above, will also be treated as a taxable perquisite in their hands.

Tax reimbursement methods

What are the tax reimbursement methods generally used by employers in India?

In case where the company bears the tax liability for the employees / expatriates, the company normally deposits the tax directly with the tax authorities by way of withholding taxes.

2.13 Calculation of estimates/prepayments/withholding

How are estimates/prepayments/withholding of tax handled in India? For example, pay-as-you-earn (PAYE), pay-as-you-go (PAYG), and so on.

The India tax system runs on pay-as-you-earn basis in respect of salary payments. Accordingly, tax needs to be withheld and deposited with the tax authorities on a monthly basis. If the taxes are not deducted, interest is levied at the rate of 1 per cent per month or part of the month for the months for which tax has not been deducted. If the taxes deducted are not deposited into the Government treasury, there would be an interest charged at the rate of 1.5 percent per month or part of the month leviable for all the months for which taxes have not been paid till date of the payment of tax. The tax withheld needs to be deposited within 7 days from the end of the month (for the month of March tax may be deposited on or before 30 April and 7 April where tax on non-monetary perquisites is borne by employer).

Pay-as-you-earn (PAYE) withholding

Every person responsible for making payment of employees' remuneration has an obligation to deduct tax on a monthly basis from the employees' remuneration at the time of payment thereof. Tax is to be deducted on the estimated income of the employee after allowing certain permissible deductions.

Even foreign employers are not exempt from such withholding tax obligations.

Advance tax installments

In case the amount of tax being withheld at source is short of the actual tax liability, an individual is liable to pay advance tax. Advance tax provisions have been discussed earlier above under "Tax Returns and Compliance".

When are estimates/prepayments/withholding of tax due in India? For example: monthly, annually, both, and so on.

Any person making the payment of salary to an employee is liable to deduct tax at the time of payment of salary to its employees. The tax deducted is to be deposited with the central Government within 7 days from the end of the month in which tax is deducted (except the tax deducted in the month of March may be deposited on or before 30 April, and 7 April where tax on non-monetary perquisites is borne by employer). The employer is also required to file quarterly withholding tax statements with Indian Revenue Authorities in respect of the tax deducted at source during the year as below

Quarter	Due Date
1 – April to June	31 July
2 – July to September	31 October
3 – October to December	31 January
4 – January to March	31 May

Furthermore, an annual salary certificate (namely Form 16) is required to be issued to the employee in respect of tax deducted at source by employer by 15 June of the end of the Financial Year.

2.14 Relief for foreign taxes

Is there any Relief for Foreign Taxes in India? For example, a foreign tax credit (FTC) system, double taxation treaties, and so on?

A resident in India is entitled to claim credit for foreign taxes paid on foreign- sourced income against the Indian tax payable on such income:

- Where agreement for avoidance of double taxation exists between the two countries/jurisdictions, in accordance with the terms of that agreement.
- In other cases, at the lower of the foreign or Indian rates of tax, or at the Indian rate of tax, if both the rates are equal.

Rules have been notified in India for availing FTC in India and the same are applicable from FY 2016-17. Accordingly, taxpayer availing FTC needs to provide declaration in Form 67 along with specified documents justifying taxes paid/deducted at source in foreign country/jurisdiction.

India has Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement (DTAA) with more than 100 countries/jurisdictions (Comprehensive and limited).

There is no specific provision for the employee to consider FTC benefit at the time of withholding taxes from salary income.

In the absence of aforesaid specific provision, the employee may consider claiming the said treaty benefit at the time of filing their personal tax return.

Further, FTC rules are applicable from FY 2016-17. FTC rules provide for following set of documents are required to be filed for claiming FTC in the India Tax Return:

- 1 Statement of income from the country/jurisdiction or specified territory outside India offered for tax for the previous year and of foreign tax deducted or paid on such income in a prescribed Form No. 67 and verified in the manner specified therein. This Form is required to be submitted to the India tax authorities before filing of the India tax return for the particular FY.
- 2 Certificate or statement specifying the nature of income and the amount of tax deducted therefrom or paid by the assessee.
- 3 From the tax authority of the country/jurisdiction or specified territory outside India; or from the person responsible for deduction of such tax; or Signed by the assessee.

Provided that the statement furnished by the assessee in 3 above shall be valid if it is accompanied by:

- An acknowledgement of online payment or bank counterfoil or challan for payment of tax where the payment has been made by the assessee
- Proof of deduction where the tax has been deducted at source.

Relief under the DTAA (i.e., exclusion of income, lower tax rate, etc.) will be available only if a Tax Residency Certificate ('TRC') is obtained by a Resident taxpayer (under the tax treaty) from the Government of other country/jurisdiction or specified territory of which they are a resident.

Additionally, the taxpayer is required to provide such other documents and information as may be prescribed in Form 10F.

Further, TRC would be regarded as a necessary but not sufficient condition to avail the benefits under the DTAA.

2.15 General tax credits

What are the general tax credits that may be claimed in your country/jurisdiction? Please list below.

The Indian tax law does not have any specific provisions for tax credit. Deductions from the taxable income, subject to certain limits are available (as discussed in the earlier sections) under Old Tax Regime.

Sample tax calculation

This calculation assumes a taxpayer non-resident in India with two children, whose 2-year assignment begins 1 January 2022 and ends 31 December 2023. The taxpayer's base salary is 100,000 US dollars (USD) and the calculation covers 2 years.

Special considerations for short term
assignments

3 Special considerations for short-term assignments

For the purposes of this publication, a short-term assignment is defined as an assignment that lasts for less than 1 year.

3.1 Residency Rules

Are there special residency considerations for short-term assignments?

There are no special residency rules prescribed for short-term assignments. The residency rules discussed in the above sections, hold valid even for an individual on a short-term assignment.

Payroll considerations

Are there special payroll considerations for short-term assignments?

There are no special payroll considerations for short term assignments.

Taxable income

What income will be taxed during short-term assignments?

An individual is taxed in respect of income earned for services rendered in India irrespective of their residential status. However, in case of an individual on a short-term assignment in India, short stay exemption may be claimed in respect of India taxes subject to the fulfillment of the prescribed conditions in the relevant treaty / Domestic tax law.

3.2 Additional considerations

Are there any additional considerations that should be considered before initiating a short-term assignment in India?

Depending upon the treaty provisions, short-term assignments can be planned in a manner so as to avail the short stay exemption. However, if presence of an individual in India creates a Permanent Establishment (PE) for the foreign company then the individual may not be entitled to claim short stay exemption in India.

Per Diem allowance granted on tour, to meet ordinary daily living charges may be claimed as exempt to the extent the amount is actually incurred for the said purpose.

Other taxes and levies

4 Other taxes and levies

4.1 Social security tax

Are there social security/social insurance taxes in India? If so, what are the rates for employers and employees?

The Ministry of Labour and Employment, in a notification dated 1 October 2008, amended the “Employees’ Provident Funds Scheme, 1952,” and the “Employees’ Pension Scheme, 1995,” collectively referred to as the Indian Social Security Scheme. Accordingly, the scope of the Indian Social Security Scheme was extended to specifically include a new concept of “International Workers” (IWs).

IWs include expatriates working for an employer in India to which the Provident Fund Act applies and Indian employees who have contributed to the Social Security program of a country/jurisdiction that has a Social Security Agreement (SSA) with India and are eligible for benefits under these SSAs.

Accordingly, all the expatriates holding foreign passports will qualify as IWs in India.

Consequently, all employees who fall within the definition of IWs are required to become members of the Schemes under the Provident Fund Act unless they qualify as ‘excluded employees’

Recent amendment in PF and Pension Scheme

The Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India issued a notification providing that a Nepalese national and a Bhutanese national shall be deemed to be an Indian worker. This notification has been effective from 2 November 2016.

- In view of the above notification, IWs are excluded from contributing towards PF in India: If, they are contributing to social security in their country/jurisdiction of origin and obtained a Certificate of Coverage (CoC) under the relevant SSA;
‘OR’
- Deputed from a country/jurisdiction with which India has entered into a bilateral comprehensive economic agreement before 1 October 2008. (Currently with Singapore only)
‘OR’
- They are Nepalese national on account of Treaty of Peace and Friendship of 1950 and the worker who are Bhutanese national on account of India-Bhutan Friendship Treaty of 2007, shall be deemed to be Indian workers. (Date of effect: 2 November 2016)

IWs (other than excluded employees) are required to contribute 12 percent of the specified salary (as defined under the EPF Act) to the Indian social security scheme. Employers are also required to contribute 12 percent of their employee’s specified salary to the scheme. A portion of employer’s contribution i.e., 8.33 percent of salary is mandatorily contributed into the pension scheme. However, an employee who is joining and becoming member of the fund on or after 1 September 2014 and has salary exceeding INR15,000 at the time of joining the fund is not required to contribute towards the pension scheme.

Amendments in the Employees’ Pension Scheme, 1995

As per notification issued by Government of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment dated 22 August 2014, the employee who is joining and becoming the member of the fund for the first time on or after 1 September 2014 and has a salary exceeding INR15,000 at the time of joining the fund is not eligible to become member of Employees’ Pension Scheme, 1995.

Therefore, the employer’s entire PF contribution of 12 percent will be contributed towards Provident Fund account and there will be no diversion of employer’s share to the Pension Fund.

Thus, all International Workers who would be becoming the members of the Provident Fund for the first time on or after on or after 1 September 2014 and have salary exceeding INR15,000 at the time of joining the fund would not be eligible to become member of Employees' Pension Scheme, 1995.

Amendments in the Employees' Deposit Linked Insurance Scheme, 1976 (EDLI)

As per notification issued by Government of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment dated 22 August 2014; the wage ceiling has been enhanced from INR6,500 to INR15,000.

The contribution towards EDLI and its administrative charges will be subject to a salary cap of INR15,000 in case of International Workers.

The contribution must be deposited on a monthly basis by 15th of the following month for which contributions are payable. Necessary forms and returns must be filed with the authorities by the prescribed deadlines.

As on 1 January 2019, India has signed Social Security Agreement ('SSA') with 20 countries/jurisdictions viz., Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Luxembourg, France, Republic of Korea, Netherlands, Hungary, Norway, Czech Republic, Sweden, Quebec, Canada, Japan, Portugal, Finland, Austria, Australia and Brazil. Out of the 20 countries/jurisdictions, the countries/jurisdictions with which India has SSAs which are currently effective are as follows:

Sr. No	Name of the country / jurisdiction	Effective Date
1	Belgium	1 September 2009
2	Germany	1 October 2009
3	Switzerland	29 January 2011

Question No 314

Further, India has signed SSAs with Brazil, but it is yet to come into effect.

Withdrawal of social security contribution Provident Fund (PF) accumulations

The IWs who are covered under an operational SSA between India and any other country/jurisdiction can withdraw their accumulated PF balances on ceasing to be an employee in an establishment covered under the PF Act.

However, in case a person is not covered under SSA, they may withdraw the PF balance on retirement from service in the company at any time after 58 years of age or is faced with certain contingencies (death/specified illnesses/incapacitation).

Pension accumulations (Payable only if the employee is not eligible for Monthly Pension)

In relation to pension withdrawal, the lump sum refund will be available only to those employees who are covered under an SSA in force and who have not completed the eligible service of 10 years even after including the totalization of service under the respective SSAs. Employees not covered under an SSA will not get the lump sum refund.

NOTE: Employee who have joined or become members of EPFS on or after 1 September 2014 and have monthly salary (as defined in the EPF Act) in excess of INR15,000 would not be required to contribute towards pension scheme (EPS), therefore there would be no pension accumulation for those employees.

Monthly Pension

In case of employees (both from SSA as well as Non-SSA countries/jurisdictions) having 10 years or older contributory service, they would be qualified to receive a monthly pension.

The employees would also be entitled to receive monthly pension in cases where:

If they have rendered eligible service of 10 years or older and retires on attaining the age of 58 years; or

Early pension, if they have rendered eligible service of 10 years or older and retires or otherwise ceases to be in the employment before attaining the age of 58 years of age.

NOTE: Employee who have joined or become members of EPFS on or after 1 September 2014 and have monthly salary (as defined in the EPF Act) in excess of INR15,000 would not be required to contribute towards pension scheme (EPS), therefore there would be no pension accumulation for those employees.

It may be noted that the Government of India have notified 4 Labour Codes which upon being effective shall replace the existing Social Security laws and other prescribed laws. These Labour Codes are yet to be made effective.

4.2 Gift, wealth, estate, and/or inheritance tax

Are there any gift, wealth, estate, and/or inheritance taxes¹ in India?

There is no estate tax levied in India.

Further, Wealth tax was applicable up to the Financial Year 2014-15 as the same has been abolished from Financial Year 2015-16 onwards.

Real estate tax

Are there real estate taxes in India?

Property tax/real estate tax is payable as per local municipal laws on commercial and residential property owned in the respective States.

Are there Sales/VAT tax

sales and/or value-added taxes in India?

India has introduced Goods and Services Tax (GST) with effect from 1 July 2017. GST applies on all supplies of goods and/or services unless otherwise exempted/excluded. GST has subsumed various indirect tax laws including VAT, Central Excise, Service tax, Central sales tax, entry tax etc.

There is a dual-GST model for levy of GST i.e., Central GST (CGST) and State GST (SGST) is levied on intra- state supply of goods and / or services and Integrated GST (IGST) is levied on inter-state supplies (including imports of goods and import of services).

4.3 Other taxes

Are there additional taxes in India that may be relevant to the general assignee? For example, customs tax, excise tax, stamp tax, and so on.

The following goods are outside the purview of GST but presently other indirect tax levy like VAT and Excise duty is applicable on the same:

- Alcoholic Liquor for human consumption
- Petroleum Crude, High Speed Diesel, Motor spirit, Aviation Turbine fuel and Natural Gas.

In addition to the above, the Federal Government levies Customs Duty and Additional duties of Customs on import into/export out of India for specified goods. Apart for the above on few items viz. Motor vehicles, tobacco products etc., a GST compensation cess is also applicable.

Profession tax

Certain states in India levy a profession tax on employees. This tax is to be withheld from salary by the employer and is also deductible in computing the taxable income of the employee. It may be noted that in case where the employee opts for New tax regime, the deduction for Profession tax is not available.

Foreign Financial Assets

Is there a requirement to declare/report offshore assets (e.g., foreign financial accounts, securities) to the country/jurisdiction's fiscal or banking authorities?

Yes, every individual qualifying as a Resident and Ordinarily Resident of India is required to disclose all their foreign assets and incomes earned therefrom while filing the India tax return.

Immigration

5 Immigration

Following is an overview of the concept of India's immigration system for skilled labor.

(E.g., which steps are required, authorities involved, in-country/jurisdiction and foreign consular processes, review/draft flow chart illustrating the process)

An Employment visa is granted to a foreigner who is a highly skilled and/or qualified professional. Employment Visa shall not be granted – (i) for jobs for which qualified Indians are available and (ii) for routine, ordinary or secretarial/clerical jobs. Employment visa is not granted to a citizen of Pakistan.

The foreign national being sponsored for an employment visa in any sector should draw a gross salary in excess of INR1.625 million per annum. However, this condition of annual floor limit on income will not apply to: (a) Ethnic cooks employed by foreign Missions in India (this will not apply to ethnic cooks employed in commercial venture), (b) Language teachers (other than English language teachers)/translators (this will not include teachers employed to teach particular subjects in foreign language), (c) staff working for the concerned Embassy/High Commission in India, (d) foreigners, eligible for 'E' visa for honorary work with the NGOs registered in the country/jurisdiction without salary, (e) foreign teaching faculty employed in the South Asian University and the Nalanda University, and (f) Circus artists.

The salary threshold limit of INR1.625 million per annum will be worked out taking into account the salary and all other allowances paid to the foreign national in cash and also perquisites like rent free accommodation etc. which are included in the salary for the purpose of calculating income tax. Such perquisites should be quantified and indicated in the Employment Contract.

In respect of foreign nationals engaged as teaching faculty at the level of Assistant Professors and above by the Central Higher Educational Institutions Viz. Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs), Central Universities (CUs), National Institutes of Technology (NITs), Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs) and Indian Institutes of Science Education and Research (IISERs), the minimum salary limit for grant of Employment visa will be INR910 thousand per annum.

Nationals of Bangladesh, who are married to Indian nationals and who are not eligible for registration as OCI cardholder must draw a minimum salary of INR910,000 per annum for being eligible for grant of Employment Visa.

Generally, a foreign national can apply for an Indian visa from the country/jurisdiction of origin/domicile. However, it may be applied from the other country/jurisdiction and the visa may be granted after consulting the Indian Mission concerned in the country/jurisdiction of origin/domicile of the foreigner.

Employment visa with multiple entry facility may be granted for a maximum period of 5 years.

Employment visa can be extended in India up to a total period of 10 years from the date of issue of the initial employment visa.

With the approval of immigration authorities, foreign nationals can change employment in India if it is between holding company, joint ventures and consortiums and its subsidiaries or between subsidiaries of holding company, joint ventures and consortiums.

5.1 International Business Travel/Short-Term Assignments

Describe (a) which nationalities may enter India as non-visa national, (b) which activities they may perform and (c) the maximum length of stay.

- Citizen of Nepal or Bhutan

- A citizen of Nepal or Bhutan entering India by land or air over Nepal, or the Bhutan border does not require a passport or visa for entry into India. However, they should be in possession of any of the following identity documents –
 - Nepalese/Bhutanese Passport; or
 - Nepalese/Bhutanese Citizenship Certificate; or
 - Voter Identification Card issued by the Election Commission of Nepal/Bhutan; or
 - Limited validity photo-identity certificate issued by Nepalese Mission/Royal Bhutanese Mission in India when deemed necessary.
- For children between age group of 10-18 years, photo ID issued by the Principal of the School, if accompanied by parents having valid travel documents. No such document is required for children below the age group of 10 years.

Are there any visa waiver programs or specific visa categories for technical support staff on short-term assignments?

NA.

Long-Term Assignments

What are the main work permit categories for long-term assignments to India? In this context outline whether a local employment contract is required for the specific permit type.

Employment visa -

The immigration guidelines are silent on this point and therefore, the Indian embassies/consulates in different countries/jurisdictions (while issuing visa) and the Indian immigration authorities in India (at the time of the registration of foreigner, visa extension, etc.) insist on some sort of a document that establishes the connection between the Indian entity/office and the foreign national.

Therefore, depending on the Indian embassies/consulates in different countries/jurisdictions and jurisdictional/regional Indian immigration authorities, one may have to submit an employment contract or some other document like appointment letter, assignment letter, etc. which particularly has clauses on the below points:

- Duration of assignment
- Annual salary break-up
- Declaration regarding payment of taxes in India Location of applicant and company in India, etc.

Further, with respect to activities for which employment VISA is granted, kindly refer “Overview of the concept of India’s immigration system for skilled labor” section above.

Project Visa - Project visa is granted to foreign nationals coming to India for execution of projects in the power and steel sectors, subject to the following conditions:

- The Visa would be project specific. In no circumstances would the person be allowed to be engaged in another project either of the same company or of a different company.
- The period of visa would be initially for a period of 1 year or for the actual duration of the project/contract, whichever is less, with multiple-entry facility. The visa can be extended for another 1 year by the State Government/UT Administration concerned. Any further extension of visa can be granted only by the Ministry of Home Affairs.
- The Project Visa would be issued only for skilled/highly skilled persons. However, the Missions/Posts may grant visa for not more than two chefs and two interpreters
- A person coming on Project Visa will not be allowed to take up employment in the same Indian company for a period of 2 years from the date of commissioning of the project.
- The Indian Company engaging the foreign national for executing the project/contract would be responsible for the conduct of the foreign national during their stay in India and also for the departure of such foreign national upon expiry of visa.
- In case the project/contract site falls in the Protected/Restricted Area, the grant of PAP/RAP should be integrated with the grant of Project Visa. In all such cases, prior clearance of the Ministry of Home Affairs shall be obtained.
- The foreigner coming on Project Visa will have to register themselves with the FRRO/FRO concerned within 14 days of arrival if the validity of visa is for more than 180 days. If the validity of visa is for a period of 180 days or less, registration would not be required.
- A foreign national may now work at a place other than the location of the project.

Intern Visa

- Intern visa is granted to a foreigner who intends to pursue internship in Indian companies, educational institutions and NGO's.
- Only graduates/postgraduates may be granted the said visa and that too only if the gap between completion of graduation/post-graduation and commencement of internship is 2 year or less.
- Intern Visa is now available at any time during the course of study. The intern should draw a minimum remuneration of INR 0.36 million per annum. This condition shall not be applicable in case of internship with an educational institution and NGOs.
- Intern visa may be granted for a maximum period of 1 year and is not extendable.

Provide a general process overview to obtain a work and residence permit for long- term assignments (including processing times and maximum validation of the permit).

- Document gathering (8-10 days)
- Book visa appointment at the Indian embassy/consulate at the place of residence (1 day) Prepare Visa application (1 days)
- File Visa application with the Indian embassy/consulate at the place of residence (10-12 business days) in some circumstances the processing times at the embassy/consulate can take several weeks
- Obtain Visa and travel to India (1 day)
- Register with the Foreigner Regional Registration office (FRRO) within 14 days of their arrival in India (5 -7 days)
- Once all the documents are ready, we need to file the online FRRO registration and need to upload all the documents related to FRRO registration in the E-FRRO portal.
- Once the application is approved by the FRRO office then the delegate will receive the Residential Permit on is register email.

The Employment visa may be extended by the FRRO/FRO concerned beyond the initial visa validity period, up to a total period of 10 years from the date of issue of the initial Employment Visa, on a year-to-year basis.

Is there a minimum salary requirement to obtain a long-term work and residence permit for assignments? Can allowances be taken into account for the salary?

The salary threshold limit of INR1.625 million per annum will be worked out by taking into account the salary and all other allowances paid to the foreign national in cash and also perquisites like rent free accommodation etc. which are included in the salary for the purpose of calculating income tax. Such perquisites should be quantified and indicated in the Employment Contract.

Is there a fast-track process which could expedite the visa/work permit?

No currently there is no fast-track option for India. In the case of urgent request, the Indian Missions/Posts may provide visa for business travel within 48 hours of application.

At what stage is the employee permitted to start working when applying for a long-term work and residence permit (assignees/local hire)?

The employee is permitted to start working, once they obtained a valid Employment Visa after arriving in India.

Can a short-term permit/business visa be transferred to a long-term permit in India?

Technically it would be possible to extend the short-term permit (employment visa)/up to 10 years in India subject to fulfilment of certain conditions. It may be noted that Business Visa cannot be converted into Employment Visa.

Is it possible to renew work and residence permits?

Yes, it is possible to renew the India work visa and Residential Permit in India subject to fulfilment of certain conditions.

Is there a quota or system or a labor market test in place?

India does not have a quota system.

5.2 General Immigration Related Questions

Would it be possible to bring family members to India?

Dependents are allowed to join the main applicant, According to Indian immigration law, spouses (marriage certificate required) and/or children under 18 years (birth certificates required) are considered as dependents. Any dependent staying for above 180 days other than a child below the age of 12 years needs to get themselves registered within 14 days of arrival with the FRRO.

Is it possible to obtain a permanent residence permit?

No.

What if circumstances change after the Work and Residence application process (e.g., change of employment or personal situation, including job title, job role or salary)?

Change in job title, job role or salary is allowed, and no intimation is required to be made to any authority.

For personal situation, we will have to review case by case basis.

No change of employer shall be permitted during the currency of the Employment Visa, except in cases of change of employment between a registered holding company, Joint Ventures & Consortiums and its subsidiaries and vice-versa or between subsidiaries of a registered holding company, Joint Ventures & Consortiums. Change of employment would be permitted at a senior level e.g., managerial or a senior executive position and/or at a skilled position e.g. a technical expert. Prior permission of the Ministry of Home Affairs is required for change of employment.

How long can a permit holder leave India without their permit becoming invalid?

If at any time a foreigner who is required to register proposes to be absent from their registered address for a continuous period of 8 weeks or more; or is changing the registered address; or is finally departing from India, they shall, before leaving, inform in person, or through an authorized representative, or by registered post to the jurisdictional Registration Officer of their intention to leave, either temporarily or permanently.

Must immigration permissions be cancelled by the end of the assignment/employment?

Delegate needs to surrender their Residential Permit at FRRO or the same can also be done at the Airport immigration checkpoint at the time of their final departure from India.

Are there any penalties for individuals and/or companies in place for non-compliance with immigration law?

Yes, there is penalty but that depends on case to case.

Other Important Items

List any other important items to note, or common obstacles faced, in India when it comes to the immigration processes.

- Prior reference category countries/jurisdictions may need more time in processing visa application
- An individual need to carry travel documents such as passport, visa, etc.at the time of travelling abroad
- Timely compliances are required.

- Unmarried partner can only come on Tourist visa.

Do the immigration authorities in India provide information to the local taxation authorities regarding when a person enters or leaves India?

There is no formal system under which immigration authorities in India provide information to local taxation authorities. However, recently tax authorities have started requesting such details from the immigration authorities on a regular basis.

Further, since local taxation authorities and immigration authorities are moving towards online process, same may be integrated in due course of time.
