

Global Entity Management

In an effort to be successful in an increasingly complex and global business environment, multinationals should have clear oversight and control of their subsidiaries around the world.

The consequences of non-compliance are increasing, and include a growing threat of fines and regulatory censure, while directors themselves face greater personal responsibility.

At the same time, those tasked with managing group compliance are stretched on already limited resources, and face increased pressure to reduce costs while not necessarily having complete visibility globally.

How KPMG Law can help

The KPMG Global Entity Management team is part of a global network of over 3,750 legal professionals operating across more than 80 jurisdictions worldwide. We bring our tried and tested compliance services and strategic corporate governance know-how to our clients, giving them confidence that their subsidiaries and associated data are in good shape. Collaborating with KPMG for ongoing compliance requirements also frees up your in-house team to focus on the value-adding matters that are at the top of your company's agenda.

Our centralized model helps reduce time and costs spent managing multiple parties and suppliers.

Services and teams can be coordinated through a multidisciplinary approach to combine wider areas of compliance such as tax and statutory accounting, which can lead to a better outcome for you.

Your central project manager is supported by a global network of corporate secretarial specialists who provide local expertise in the delivery of in-country requirements, helping to ensure deadlines are being met.
