Transfer Pricing Services

Businesses continue to grow and evolve in a complex, global and digital environment. Greater transparency is being required in relation to multinational group's tax affairs, while governments and tax administrations across the globe are increasing transfer pricing compliance requirements. This necessitates that your transfer pricing policy and framework form an integral part of your organisation. Transfer pricing is a key driver of a multinational group's effective tax rate and it can also have a significant impact on your business reputation.

We are uniquely positioned to work with your organisation to manage these challenges. We can assist with implementing a transfer pricing framework which is representative of your company's facts and circumstances. The framework will identify the key value drivers of your business and we ensure that it is clearly articulated, commercially viable and can be defended in case of a tax audit.

Our transfer pricing solutions are sustainable and in line with international tax guidelines and best practices. We have regard to the wider commercial objectives of the business in our approach of assisting clients to develop and articulate transfer pricing policies, perform benchmarking studies and document policies that comply with the latest OECD Guidelines and local laws for both master and local files as well as assistance with Country-by-Country reporting. Other services include value chain management analysis, capital management advice and assistance in dispute resolutions.

KPMG's services help limit tax leakage, align your tax strategy to the overall business strategy, mitigate risks and safeguard your reputation.

We have extensive experience in assisting multinationals in developing global documentation, policy frameworks and assisting with implementation reviews.

Operational transfer pricing

The manner in which you implement and manage transfer pricing policies is critical in ensuring that appropriate taxes are paid in the countries where you operate. Also, the on-the-ground reality needs to be aligned with what is stated in the documentation submitted to Revenue authorities.

Operational transfer pricing (OTP) is more than just a cost-plus calculation. Technology along with clearly understood, documented policies and processes are extremely important. KPMG simplifies your role so that you can focus on the results.

We have experience in assisting a large insurance group with evaluating tax risks arising from discrepancies between Transfer Pricing policies and business reality.

We have also assisted a diversified commodity trading and distribution group to understand tax risks arising on account of a disconnect between Transfer Pricing documentation in different countries.

We have also been involved in the re-designing of management services models for clients to make them more robust and defensible with Regulators and Revenue authorities.

Value chain

It is important to review your tax and overall business strategy regularly to ensure tax efficiency. The value chain management (VCM) operating model assists you in analysing and restructuring value chains. It also helps in understanding the tax implications of various decisions.

Documentation

Under BEPS Action 13, a standardised approach to transfer pricing documentation was introduced and adopted across the world. In some instances this approach has been tailored by countries to meet their specific requirements. This can cause a significant burden when creating and maintaining compliant transfer pricing documentation on an annual basis. KPMG has invested heavily in this area over the past few years to create a fully managed solution. We also provide bespoke services to meet your BEPS Action 13 requirements.

Capital management

The transfer pricing aspects in relation to the management of debt and cash within your group can be quite complex. Consideration of appropriate arm's length quantum of debt, with affordability analysis is important. We can assess this fully, along with the appropriateness of interest rates and interest deductibility.

Dispute resolution

Tax enquiries and disputes are time consuming, resource-intensive and adjustments to taxable income can lead to higher effective taxation rates. They can also have a negative impact on your firm's reputation. Our team can help you effectively respond to transfer pricing enquiries when dealing with tax authorities. We have experience in assisting clients in all stages of Transfer Pricing audits and disputes.
